Russians Discredit Dag Over Lumumba Slaying

Anti-Belgian Rioting Flares Across World

LONDON (UPI) — Anti-Belgian demonstrations broke out in many parts of the world today and touched off protests against the United States over the slaying of Patrice Lumumba.

A student march in New Delhi, India, forced the U. S. Embassy to close briefly. Another anti-American uproar flared in Lahore, Pakistan, and there were threats of anti-U. S. and Belgian demonstrations in Cairo.

The biggest anti-Belgian demonstration came in Yugoslavia where 30,000 persons stormed the Belgian Embassy in Belgrade and ransacked it for three hours after breaking through the police cordons. Another crowd smashed windows at the French Embassy.

In Moscow, thousands of Russian and African students made repeated attempts to storm the Belgian Embassy.

WRECK CAR

They wrecked and tried to set fire to a Belgian Embassy car but were kept out of the Embassy building by police exhorting them to disperse "in the name of the Communist Party."

Similar demonstrations occurred throughout Russia, the official Tass news agency reported.

In New Delhi, angry African students broke into the Belgian Embassy and smashed a picture of King Baudouin when they found no Belgians present. They hurled tomatoes, scattered files and threw the picture of the king onto the lawn in front of the building.

DOORS CLOSE

Immediately afterward they went to the American Embassy and forced it to close its doors until police arrived. The students carried signs proclaiming "down with Yankee imperialism" and demanded to see U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker who was out of the city.

Deputy chief of mission Edward Maffitt received 10 students for discussions while three carloads of Indian police kept a watchful eye on the others. Maffitt said he spent two hours listening to the harange, took notes, pointed out several errors and then the students left peacefully.

Students in Lahore demonstrated in front of the U.S. consulate against the slaying of Lumumba and handed over notes for President John F. Kennedy.

CONDEMN U. S.

The notes said: "We strongly condemn the United States government for the part it is playing in engineering United Nations activities in the Congo which ended in the barbaric murder of Lumumba."

In Cairo, police set up heavy cordons around the U.S. and Belgian embassies. They dispersed a budding march on the embassies by member of the African Assn.

In Ceylon, 500 students demonstrated against the Colombo residence of Belgian Charge d'Affaires Andre Selliez and then marched to the French consulate to shout protests.

Want Foreign Pullout In Congo In A Month

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union announced today it would no longer recognize Dag Hammarskjold as secretary-general of the United Nations and charged that the blood of Patrice Lumumba was on his hands.

A formal declaration published in three frontpage columns of the government newspaper Izvestia called for removal of Hammarskjold from his post.

The declaration came as thousands of Russian and African students protesting Lumumba's death attempted time and again today to storm the Belgian Embassy in Moscow.

The Soviet government declaration demanded:

1. That the "so-called United Nations operation in the Congo be completed and all foreign troops withdrawn from the country in a month."

GIVEN TIME

2. The Congo people be given time "to settle their domestic affairs themselves."

3. Recognition of the government of Antoine Gizenga as the legitimate government of the Congo. Gizenga was vice premier in the Moscow-supported Lumumba government and his heir apparent.

4. The arrest of President Moise Tshombe of Breakaway Katanga Province, where the Lumumba murder occurred, and the arrest of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, who seized army power last fall and jailed Lumumba.

5. That the United Nations condemn Belgium for its activities and that all Belgian troops and Belgian civilians in the Congo be disarmed and sent out of the country.

DISARM TROOPS

6. Disarming of all Congolese army troops under the command of Tshombe or Mobutu.

The declaration said Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev had sent a cablegram to Gizenga pledging his full support and promising to see that the criminals are punished. He also sent regrets to Lumumba's widow.

"Non-recognition" of the secretary-general was the same action the Soviet Union took

Katanga Chief Says U.N. Set Off Civil War

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (UPI)—President Moise Tshombe charged today that the United Nations brought civil war to Katanga.

"It was only with the arrival of United Nations troops that bands of rebels began to form," the Katangese president said.

He said in a prepared statement that before the arrival of U.N. troops, northern Katanga was peaceful.

Now, he said, it "had been bathed in fire and blood, had accumulated ruin and destruction and had its well-being and social advancement thrown back by many years."

Tshombe issued his statement as the Congo hovered on the verge of civil war in the wake of Sunday's slaying of former Premier Patrice Lumumba and two aides by villagers in Katanga Province.

Followers, Widow March In Mourning

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI)—Pauline Lumumba, widow of slain Patrice Lumumba, walked bare-breasted through the streets of Leopoldville today to show her mourning for her husband.

With her walked about one hundred of her late husband's followers.

RAMP, 1-WAY STREETS

Part Of Highway Plan Protested

By JOHN CHAMBERS

Less than half a dozen points of engineer Daniel Coleman's plan for widening Highway 101 through San Rafael were protested by members of a crowd of 130 persons that jammed a hearing before the San Rafael City Council last night.

Major opposition came from residents of the Dominican area against the proposed northbound offramp at Linden Lane.

Also questioned were the use of one-way streets, the location of rapid transit, the closing of Francisco Boulevard, specific labeling of offramp signs, and how long it will take to reach an agreement with the California Division of Highways.

Using four large-scale multicolor maps, Coleman talked for an hour and 15 minutes explaining his recommendations for adding four new lanes on the west side of Highway 101 plus variations on the state plan for interchanges at Puerto Suello Hill and below Second Street.

The spectators, who lined the walls of the council chamber and spilled out five deep into the corridor, listened intently as Coleman emphasized the need for freeway expansion and outlined his recommendations.

Only 20 persons questioned parts of the plan after the San Francisco engineer's presentation. City councilmen remained silent.

Protesting the inclusion of a Linden Lane offramp were members of the Community Preservation League of San Rafael, composed mainly of Dominican area home owners.

Henry Schubart, architect for Dominican College, warned that if motorists found the Irwin Street offramp congested they would travel another 30 seconds and take the Linden Lane offramp to go both east and west.

Dr. Orville F. Grimes, president of the league, and contractor Michael Costello Jr. of 1610 Grand Avenue asked the council to move the Linden Lane offramp northward to become a part of a diamond interchange at Puerto Suello Hill. They said they had a petition with more than 200 signatures asking for a relocation of the proposed off-ramp.

Coleman termed their request reasonable, but said another offramp at Puerto Suello Hill would require acquisition of more property, create hazardous slide conditions and have a shorter

Father Finds Daughters In 15-Year Search

A search by a San Rafael man for his two lost daughters, which began 15 years ago in Grants Pass, Ore., and trailed through most of the United States, ended yesterday in Bieber, Lassen County.

For the first time since they were toddlers, Arthur B. Self of 238 Woodland Avenue shook hands with his two daughters, Lafawn Jean and Sandra Joyce.

Until their father walked into their house and told them who he was, the girls were unaware of his existence.

For Self, the trail began the day his former wife deserted him, taking the children, then less than 2 years old.

Since then he has divorced her, re-married, and established a new family which includes his wife, Bonnie, and four children, Connie Vondena, 11; Carolyn Vanita, 10; Carlene Vanessa, 5, and Arthur Jr., 2.

But for 15 years he has sought to find his two girls, trailing them through telegrams, letters and telephone calls to schools, social security boards, relatives and even the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

All he had to go on was the name of the man with whom his wife ran away. And it was a common name: William Green.

"I looked in every state in the country," Self said yesterday. "I never thought they would be in California."

The almost accidental discovery of the whereabout of his former wife and the two daughters came through location of

Medical Society Backs Simple Oath Of Loyalty

The Marin County Medical Society will support a simple affirmation of loyalty for delegates to the California Medical Assn., in place of a disavowal of membership in organizations listed as subversive.

On recommendation of its legislative committee, the board of directors of the Marin society last night voted to so instruct its delegates to a meeting of the state society's house of delegates April 29-May 3 in Los Angeles.

Proposed as a substitute oath will be:

"I hereby declare my loyalty to the United States of America and to the Constitution of the California Medical Assn."

This would replace an oath required of delegates which declares: "I do not belong and have not belonged to any organization advocating the overthrow or change of the form of government of the U.S.A. by violent or unlawful means, nor do I belong or have belonged to any organization while it was listed, published or held to be subversive by the Department of Justice of the United States of America."

His objection to the latter oath caused Dr. J. Lyman Hurlbut of Larkspur to resign as an alternate delegate to the Los Angeles meeting.

Probe Of Slaying Turns To Oakland

Sheriff's inspectors, each armed with a portrait of Mount Tamalpais murder victim Jerry Keith Sangster, 25, combed Oakland today in search of acquaintances who may have seen Sangster alive between Jan. 27 and Feb. 1.

Sangster's nude body was found in a shallow grave at Devil's Gulch, off Fairfax Bolinas Road on Feb. 5. He had been shot at close range from the back of his head. The bullet, which emerged from his right forehead, has not been found. Neither has the weapon or the victim's clothes.

JAMES SAMUEL HUGGINS
Falls dead in pool

Club Worker Found Dead In Fairfax Pool

A young ex-airman was found dead today in 15 inches of water in the swimming pool of the Marin Town and Country Club in Fairfax.

James Samuel Huggins, 24, who was working at the club as a maintanance man, had been assigned by manager Guido Monti to clean the filter of the partially drained pool.

A few minutes later Monti looked around, failed to see Huggins, noted ripples spreading across the water and finally discerned his body below the surface.

Monti rushed into the pool and carried Huggins out to the pool's edge.

Fairfax police and firemen responded to a call about 9:30 a.m. and Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton sent a resuscitator unit.

No water was extracted from the respiratory system, leading to belief that Huggins had died of a heart attack. Investigation disclosed that he had suffered at least one such seizure previously.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said that an autopsy will be conducted.

Huggins, a native of Uffington, W. Va., whose wife Carol is from Morgan Hill, W. Va., lived with his family at Apt. 23 at the club. The family includes a 2-year-old daughter, Luciendy, and a 4-month-old son, James David.

They had been at the club since May and in Marin County since November, 1959. Huggins was formerly an airman stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base.

HURRAY FOR IGNACIO

Gallant Galli Gets Slight Postal Plum

Thanks to Frank Galli, the name Ignacio will be restored to the U.S. Post Office Department's lists, after a fashion.

Galli protested when he learned that a branch of the Novato Post Office, to be established Thursday in the new Roger-Wilco Market at 435 Entrada Drive, just outside Novato city limits, was to be known as "South Novato."

"It's Ignacio," proclaimed Galli, who lives in Novato but styles himself the "mayor of Ignacio" and operates a restaurant there. "It always has been Ignacio. They're trying to do away with a historic name."

Yesterday, Galli received a letter from Stiro Rafalovich, postal installation manager of the Post Office Department's regional office in San Francisco, advising the new post mark would be "Novato Post Office, Ignacio Branch."

But if you're going to mail a letter to someone in the area, whether they live within the Novato city limits or in Ignacio, the address should read "Novato, Calif."

Office hours for the new branch will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday. It will provide all services except mailing to foreign countries.

Yugoslavia Calls For 'Energetic' Probe Into Killing Of Lumumba

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Yugoslavia last night called on the Security Council to order an "urgent and energetic" investigation to fix the blame for the killing of Patrice Lumumba.

The Yogoslav letter from Foreign Minister Koca Popovic was the first formal proposal put to the council after the announcement by the Katanga Province government that the former premier of the Congo and two political associates had been slain by residents of an unnamed Katanga village.

Popovic blamed the killing on Katanga President Moise Tshombe, Major Gen. Joseph Mobuto, the head of the Congolese army, and Congo President Joseph Kasavubu. He called them a "clique in the direct service of foreign interventionists, primarily Belgium."

The Yugoslav letter said U.N. organs active in the Congo "share a full measure of this responsibility."

Echoing demands of the Soviets and Lumumba's supporters among African and Asian nations, Popovic also demanded the disarming of Tshombe's provincial army and the Congolese troops controlled by Mobutu and Kasavubu, and the withdrawal of all Belgian military personnel frm the Congo.

No mention was made of pro-Lumumba troops based in Stanleyville and controlled by the pro-Communist vice premier in Lumumba's government, Antoine Gizenga.

Hammarskjold had told the council yesterday that the announcement of Lumumba's death necessitated "a full and impartial investigation."

U. S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson expressed approval of the secretary general's "continuation of his investigations," begun Friday when Lumumba's escape was reported.

But Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin expressed lack of confidence in Hammarskjold and said there was "a hypocritical ring in those proposals for a so-called investigation."

The council adjourned until tomorrow so delegations could consult their governments and each other on what to do.

TRAGEDY WITH THE FUN

Two Men Lost In River As Mardi Gras Winds Up

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Tragedy marred the opening of Mardi Gras today as King Zulu emerged from a fog bank on the Mississippi River with his grass skirt and purple and gold spear.

Three white men following the Negro monarch in a small boat were thrown into the cold river when their vessel overturned. One of the men was rescued. Police began dragging operations for the other two. Identities were not immediately available.

But New Orleans, with more than a century of Mardi Gras madness to live up to, uncorked its annual magnum of mirth with ridiculous costumes, masks and a seemingly endless chain of gala parades.

The "city that care forgot" is trying to loose all its wildness and wickedness before the Lenten season starts tomorrow.

King Zulu, wearing a silver crown and a black, silver-trimmed jacket to go with his grass skirt and black stockings, debarked from a workboat in the Mississippi. He was greeted by several hundred fun-seekers at 9 a.m. and boarded the first of four Zulu parade floats.

Only a few Negroes were present, apparently the result of a sober racial conflict in which several Negro organizations have condemned the jungle-like antics of the Zulus. The organizations claimed the Zulu parade did not serve a "common purpose" with equality movements.

Several police and four police dogs met the Zulu entourage at the dock—the protection of the city administration promised the Zulus if they went ahead with parade plans.

Zulu and his followers will spend the day rollicking through the city, invading bars in a day-long drinking spree. Dozens of Negro bars, however, have served notice they will not serve the thirsty Zulus.

Rayburn Says Need Is Urgent To Act On Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The need to do something about mounting unemployment is more urgent than at any time since the great depression of the 1930s, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said after a conference with President John F. Kennedy today.

Rayburn added that Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg reported at the conference that he has found the situation worse than he had expected.

Goldberg reported to Kennedy, other members of the Cabinet and Democratic congressional leaders at an hour-long White House session which concentrated on the problem of joblessness and economic recovery.

As Goldberg did last night after a meeting with Kennedy, Rayburn said the president will have something to say about the unemployment situation at his news conference tomorrow. The conference will be broadcast live on nationwide television and radio.

Rayburn, questioned by reporters, replied he didn't want to speak for the administration, but that in his opinion the problem reflects "the most urgency since the great depression" of 30 years ago.

The White House session was held as Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana pushed for fast action on the economic program Kennedy said is aimed at "putting millions of unemployed back to work."

Mansfield said he has asked the chairman of the Senate Labor and Finance committees to get hearings going quickly on minimum wage and unemployment compensation bills.

Kennedy told the National Industrial Conference Board yesterday these are among the measures in an economic program geared to recovery as a first step toward bolstering the country's economic growth.

Announcing that he will propose a new tax incentive plan to promote an expansion of plant and equipment investment, Kennedy said this will be part of his administration's cooperation with business.

But he said recovery is an essential first step.

Kennedy did not give any details of his tax incentive proposal. But members of Congress who have discussed it with him said it is their understanding that fast tax write-offs would be suggested for heavy equipment which would provide more business for steel mills and the machine tool industry.

Kennedy said that plant obsolescence is slowing down national growth, handicapping productivity and affecting the American competitive position abroad.

Kennedy said a drop of about six billion or seven billion dollars in 960 billion dollars of corporation profits cost the government about three billion dollars in revenues. He said this was enough to pay for all anti-recession, health and aid to education proposals for a year, with some left over to increase the production of missiles.

TO PARIS—Retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, outspoken former Army combat paratrooper, has been nominated as U.S. ambassador to France. Gavin, 53, resigned from the Army in 1958 with the allegation that economy-minded Pentagon officials had held back necessary missile advances. He was then chief of the Army research and development program. He gained a reputation as the "jumping general" in World War II. (AP Wirephoto)

Goldberg Steps Up Plan To Deal With Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, back from a tour of areas of high unemployment, has issued two departmental orders to try to cope with the problem.

Undeterred by Republican criticism, he has gone ahead with plans for early visits to other depressed areas for a series of meetings on the problems of the jobless.

The two orders issued are:

1. Creation of a new office in the Labor Department which will make a special study of unemployment problem resulting from automation.

2. From now on, the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security will put out figures once a month showing which areas of the country have substantial unemployment. In the past these figures have been provided once every two months.

The orders were among subjects discussed last night by Goldberg and President John F. Kennedy in an hour's talk at the White House.

The Republican criticism was in the form of an unsigned article in Battle Line, a publication of the Republican National Committee. The article claimed Goldberg's swing through Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania was politically inspired and that he raised false hopes by telling jobless workers "I pledge you that we will find you a job."

The money was raised at a banquet dinner Sunday at Marin City. Clothing and household articles, as well as money, is being collected for sharecroppers living in tents in Tennessee.

The city council agenda includes bid opening on a $54,000 library addition, and calling for bids for repair of San Anselmo Avenue.

The precise plan for modernizing the downtown business area will also come up for city council action.

Chamber of commerce representatives will present a plan to install trees in tubs along San Anselmo Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mrs. Phyllis Heikkila, widow of an elleged ex-Communist involved in a deportation case, said yesterday that she has been denied social security death benefits.

Mrs. Heikkila said the Social Security Administration refused to give her a $255 death benefit on grounds that her husband, William, had been deported. Heikkila was seized on a San Francisco street in 1958 and flown to his native Finland. He was returned to the United States under a court order and died at his home here last May 7.

Beautifully built to set trends in styling and savings beautifully built to take care of itself

This is probably the most imitated Look in automobiles today. Take the roofline, for instance. (Most other cars have!) Yet it looks best on its original setting, the Ford Galaxie. The roof and all the rest of the car were designed to go together. This is what makes the Classic Ford Look.

Moreover, this car is as beautifully built as it is beautifully shaped. As Ford takes care of itself, it takes care of your budget.

See the roster at right, and you'll conclude: This is the Ford in your future. May we open its door to you . . . soon?

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF

Lubricates itself—You go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications (which cost only about $4.00 and take about 20 minutes).

Cleans its own oil—You go 4,000 miles between oil changes with Ford's Full-Flow oil filter (which filters better through specially packed fibers).

Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves—automatically.

Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminized to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.

Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.

Takes care of its own finish—Just wash and clean Ford's new Diamond Lustre Finish and it will continue to glisten like new. It never needs waxing.

Extended Warranty—Each part of '61 Fords, except tires, is dealer warranted against defects in materials or workmanship for 12 months or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. Owners remain responsible for normal maintenance service and routine replacement of maintenance items such as filters and ignition parts.

Every '61 Ford, like the Galaxie Club Victoria above, shares an honor to be proud of. It is the medal presented by the international fashion authority, Centro per l'Alta Moda Italiana, to the 1961 Ford for functional expression of classic beauty.

Prepare Students For Next Century

DETROIT (AP) — Unless the students of today learn to live in the world of tomorrow they face annihilation in a global holocaust.

High school principals from across the nation accepted this grim promise today in considering sweeping proposals for greatly strengthened programs in the social studies.

A position paper submitted by a special committee of the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals, convening here, put it bluntly.

"Preparing students for living in this and the 21st century demands a kind of social studies instruction which their parents and teachers never experienced," the committee said.

"The very existence of mankind today depends upon man's control of his social environment. Man must use his vast new sources of power for constructive purposes. The alternative is the creation of a global holocaust."

The term "social studies" is usually interpreted to mean such subjects as history, geography, economics, sociology, civics and the like. All deal, in general, with man's relations with his fellow man.

The position paper has been distributed to more than 5,000 principals attending the convention. It is a tentative draft, but only minor revisions are expected before it comes up for approval by the convention delegates tomorrow. If approved, it becomes association policy.

The position paper calls for required courses in the social studies in every year of the junior and senior high school, and for every student, whether college bound or not.

For students able to handle the work, the committee recommended elective courses at every level. High school courses in this area might include courses in U.S. foreign policy, contemporary problems in economics, or history of Latin America and the Far East.

Reduction Of Foreign Tariff Seen Gold Balance Need

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—America must try to get foreign countries to reduce their tariffs, modify their currency restrictions and lower their quotas on imports, members of the California Savings and Loan League were told yesterday.

These steps are necessary if the United States is to improve its unfavorable balance of payments position and check the outflow of gold for protection of the dollar, said H. C. McClellan, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

He addressed the opening session of the league's annual management conference. The three-day meeting is devoted to "creative and imaginative thinking" in management, lending and housing, personnel and the building of savings. Some 600 conferees and wives are attending.

McClellan expressed concern over what he called a current trend of thinking toward protectionism, through tariffs, because of the upsurge in imports.

The answer is not in protectionism, he said, but in enlightened understanding of the problem and a sound trade policy. Higher tariffs are not the answer, he said, because restrictions would be met in kind.

McClellan said measures taken and proposed for restricting the outflow of gold are "only nibbling at the adges of the problem."

A more basic approach, he said, is to increase U.S. foreign trade balances by from one to two billion dollars over the 1960 favorable balance of five billion.

To gain this, he continued, an overhaul is needed in the tax system as it applies to the business area. One of the most important considerations, he asserted, is an acceleration in depreciation rates that would give better and more efficient plants to aid in meeting competion in foreign trade.

Obsolete and high-cost plant and equipment today, McClellan said, run into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Students Compete For Drama Parts

Thirty-eight Novato high school students are competing for parts in three plays which will be presented to the public in April.

The second annual competitive play festival is getting under way with six casts and six directors competing in three one-act plays. Judges at the high school will choose the three top composite casts and three directors for the finals April 28-29. Top actors and directors will get "Oscars" in the form of trophies, for the best performances.

The plays to be presented are "Curse You, Jack Dalton," a melodrama; "Box and Cox," and "The Dear Departed."

Enlists In Navy

Larry Eugene Cory, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence O. Cory of Box 34, San Quentin, has enlisted in the Navy at the Marin County Navy Recruiting Office, 1116 Fourth Street, San Rafael, for a four-year tour of duty. He was sent to the San Diego Naval Training Center for recruit training.

ADM. RICHMOND K. TURNER
War II hero

Pacific War Fighter Adm. Turner Succumbs

MONTEREY (AP)—Adm. Richmond Kelley Turner, 75, brilliant strategist who landed American soldiers for some of the roughest fighting in the Pacific during World War II, is dead.

The retired admiral died Sunday of a heart attack. He had lived here since 1947 when he retired from the Navy.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Turner commanded U.S. amphibious forces in the Pacific during World War II. That assignment capped a varied career that included many honors.

Turner, whose wife died Jan. 3, was stricken during lunch at the home of a friend, retired Army Col. Warren J. Clear.

A blacksmith's son, Turner was forged of tough stuff. He and his staff planned and executed amphibious assaults on chunks of rock and beach and jungle deemed virtually impregnable.

Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz, then commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, told Turner the Navy had to get the troops onto the beaches. It was Turner's job to figure out how.

His amphibious forces landed GIs on the Japanese-held islands—Tarawa, Kwajalein, Eniwetok, Guam, Saipan, Iwo Jima, Okinawa.

He was decorated with the Navy Cross for bravery and three times with the Distinguished Service Medal for leadership. President Harry S. Truman in 1945 promoted him to full admiral.

KILLER GRINS—Pedro Arroyo grins and talks in a New York City police station after he admitted the slaying of three women. Police said the 32-year-old ex-convict told them he killed his three girl friends because he had a grudge against each of them. (AP Wirephoto)

Teacher Group Supports Statewide Pupil Testing

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Teachers Assn. threw its powerful support behind legislation for mandatory statewide testing of pupils.

On the testing issue, the 120,000-member CTA backed the State Board of Education which wants school boards to be able to select tests from a master list of examinations.

The Citizens Advisory Commission on Education proposes tests without local option.

The CTA stand drew criticism from Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland (D-La Mesa), who said it would make all schools conform to "the same dull grey level of mediocrity."

The CTA endorsements followed a meeting over the weekend of the 69-member Legislative Commission.

Curriculum bills backed by the group include those to provide the teaching of foreign language in elementary schools, to provide money for educating the gifted and to give local schools a choice in textbooks.

It also supported bills to promote educational television in remote districts, to deny school facilities to subversive groups, and to require daily flag salutes.

Council Will Not Meet

The Mill Valley City Council will not meet tomorrow as is normally scheduled. It will next meet Feb. 21 at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

HIKING GIRL HAS A BAD CONNECTION

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hiking high in the hills, Melody Ann Story, 14, heard a bee buzz into the hood of her sweater.

She twisted around sharply to set it free. The motion threw her right knee out of joint. She could not walk.

Her companion, Judy Hunt, also 14, scrambled down from near the top of 1,800-foot Cahuenga Peak to a home, where a housewife telephoned for help.

Eight firemen climbed 200 feet up the steep, brush-covered slope and carried Melody in a basket stretcher to an ambulance.

At Hollywood Receiving Hospital, as attendants removed her jeans Monday, her knee snapped back into joint. She arose and limped away.

Youths Want Job Placements Increased

The Marin County Youth Employment Committee will meet next Monday to consider ways of increasing job placement services to the growing numbers of students seeking work.

The committee, composed of representatives from the school, parent-teacher associations, community services council, probation office and carpenters' union, will meet at 3 p.m. at the State Department of Employment Office, 805 E Street, San Rafael.

Microphone May Aid In Finding Heart Ills

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Is it possible that before a person suffers a heart attack the organ may send out a cry for help which goes unheard because the sound is unaudible to the physician's stethoscope?

Phiysicians at Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital believe this is possible. They are conducting experiments along these lines.

The hospital reported today that tests are being made on more than 500 patients with electronic microphones, designed to detect subsonic sounds.

The experiments are being conducted by a team headed by Dr. Danial Mason and Dr. Joseph F. Uricchio.

The physicians, by applying an ultra-sensitive microphone to the chest wall, have been able to pick up heart sounds in the range and intensity of 1 to 50 cycles per second. Most of these sounds are inaudible to the normal human ear with a stethoscope.

Researchers report the sounds form what appears to be a standard pattern in normally functioning hearts. The pattern varies only with progressive age. Researchers, therefore, have been able to set up normal patterns for age groups.

It is hoped that this method eventually will permit physicians to detect departures from this norm in seemingly healthly individuals whose heart malfunction is hidden or incipient.

To Issue License

Castro Hopes U.S. Will Alter Policy

By HENRY RAYMONT

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro, in a relaxed, friendly mood, hinted today that he still hoped U.S. President John F. Kennedy would reverse what he described as "aggressive policies" of the Eisenhower administration toward Cuba.

The Cuban leader indicated that he feels Kennedy himself would favor a "relaxation" in U.S. foreign policy, but that he is "not allowed" to follow through on the wish because of what Castro termed political pressures at home.

Castro spoke respectfully of Kennedy, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Adlai Stevenson, and Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles.

"Why if they had the courage to defy vested interests by enacting important innovations in foreign policy, such as inviting the Soviet Union to participate in an economic aid program for underdeveloped nations, have they not had the courage to change toward Cuba?" Castro asked.

Castro said he did not intend again to revert to personal attacks on U.S. leaders which have characterized previous speeches. But he emphatically and repeatedly insisted that the eventual re-establishment of peaceful relations between Havana and Washington must be conditioned on cessation of what he described as U.S. air drops of arms to the foes of his regime within Cuba.

The premier alleged that such air drops had been organized by the Pentagon and Central Intelligence Agency. He said he was convinced they were part of what he described as a systematic campaign to overthrow his regime.

"Planes from all directions are flying over Cuba virtually daily dropping enormous quantities of weapons in the Escambray Mountain area," Castro declared. He claimed, however, that government forces were capturing "at least 80 per cent" of such arms.

Castro also claimed he had knowledge of alleged U.S. plans to parachute two American "experts" into the embattled region, presumably to improve the organization of the arms deliveries as well as to lay out plans for construction of an air strip in the region.

Castro said he had "documentary evidence" of such a plan.

Mart Loses $20 To Trio Of Thieves

A trio of thieves stole $20 from the cash register of the West End Market at Fourth and G Streets in San Rafael yesterday while the manager's back was turned.

Manager Paul Ware of 14 Taylor Street, San Rafael, said the men entered the store about 2:10 p.m. and one of them bought a 10-cent candy bar.

When Ware opened the cash register, another of the trio asked for some ice cream. As the manager turned and reached into the freezer, the third, a slim, well-dressed man about 35-year-old, reached into the cash register and scooped out the money.

Across the store, co-owner Norman Soldavini saw the thief's actions and telephoned police.

When the trio left, Soldavini told Ware what had happened and the two men watched two of the thieves climb into a green car parked down the street. The third walked around a corner.

Special Meeting Called On Marin City Rents

A special meeting is being called by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency for 1:30 p.m. Friday at Marin City to discuss rents in the redevelopment project, Bert Klahn, executive director, said today.

Redeveloper James H. Scheuer is to fly from New York especially to meet with the commission, the tenants and the press. The meeting will be in the community lounge.

Scheuer will be in the area Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

"The redevelopment agency wants reaffirmation of Scheuer's proposal to produce rental units in a range that will meet the needs of the tenants," said Klahn.

Rep. Clement W. Miller made it known last week that a cost squeeze, blamed on excessive financing charges, might price Marin City redevelopment units out of reach of many of the people for whom the units were intended.

Miller said builders were trying to get their cost estimates down but that it appeared the lowest rental would be $137 per month. Klahn said rental schedules worked out with Scheur call for cooperative apartments which would rent at $115 for two-bedroom units and $125 for three-bedroom units and Scheuer was trying "to shave this down." Top rent in the low-rent project is $84 per month for a four-bedroom unit.

Scheuer, president of the California Development Corp., is expected to meet with Marin City residents to discuss the commercial area of the redevelopment and with church groups who want to discuss location of churches.

Another Burke dog, Marquam Hill's Ginger Snap, daughter of Comanche, was judged best of winners at the Westminster show on Sunday, and on the previous day had won the same honor in the American Boxer Club specialty show competing against 183 boxers.

Builder Leaps To Death Off Golden Gate Span

An Oakland construction firm owner stood at the edge of the Golden Gate Bridge early today, told two passersby that he had "made a million and lost it," and jumped—the 203rd known suicide since the bridge was built.

Raymond Curtis Lewis, 57, whose home was in Lafayette, Contra Costa County, was later identified by papers found in his sports car parked on the bridge.

Among the papers was a torn sheet lying on the seat on which were written random phrases including "tired of living" and "insurance purpose . . . will help my family."

Lewis was seen standing on the east side south of the north bridge tower at 4:10 a.m. by Francis Fitzgibbons, tax driver of 455 Tennessee Valley Road, Mill Valley, and Anglo Azard, San Francisco newspaper distributor.

They told the California Highway Patrol that both saw him stop his car, climb over the rail and stand looking at the water.

Both men halted and called to Lewis to come back.

Instead he stood calmly for about two minutes and spoke of making and losing a million dollars. Insurance, he said, would take care of his family which would be "better off." Then he stepped off.

Lewis is father of four children, police said. He was president of Oakland's R. C. Lewis Construction Co.

Two Coast Guard vessels searched for the body without result.

Sausalito Bar's License Suspended

The California Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has ordered a 20-day suspension of the on-sale general liquor license of Lois L. Graen of Little Willow, 681 Bridgeway Boulevard, Sausalito.

The licensee was charged on nine counts of selling to a minor, permitting a minor to consume and permitting a minor to remain on public premises. The suspension was to become effective on service of the notice.

Only Driver License Charge Lodged Against Student, 19

Mark Thomas Kimberly, 19, Santa Rosa Junior College student who was arrested at Bermuda Palms about 5 a.m. on Feb. 3, was not charged with any crime except reproducing a driver's license illegally.

He pleaded guilty to reproducing the license, a violation of the California Vehicle Code, and was put on three months probation by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court.

Irving Litchfield, owner of Bermuda Palms, called San Rafael police when Kimberly began pounding on the door of Litchfield's 18-year-old daughter who lives at the motel.

Kimberly said he went to the motel because he had a message for a girl acquaintance of his, who was supposed to be staying with Terry Litchfield that night.

Police Sgt. Thomas Stephenson said Kimberly showed him a photostatic copy of a driver's license registered to someone else. Then he later produced his correct license. Police booked Kimberly for investigation of several violations, but the only charge brought against him was the license reproduction.

Britain Blueprints For More Arms

LONDON (AP) — The government issued a defense blueprint today providing for increased armaments expenditures and warning of the rising military might of Communist China.

The document laid before Parliament calls for military spending of 1,655,600,000 pounds—$4,635,680,000—in the fiscal year beginning April 1.

This is more than one-quarter of total government spending and is 39 million pounds—$109,200,000—higher than current defense spending.

The white paper hinted that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government is shying away from the more expensive nuclear and rocket arms programs to provide enough money for conventional forces.

Communist China maintains very large armed forces and the West cannot ignore her rising power, the government said.

It predicted that the Soviet Union's submarine fleet will increase and its submarines will carry nuclear missiles.

"Until general disarmament has been achieved peace rests on the maintenance of adequate power by the West to discourage aggression by the Soviet bloc or by China," the white paper added.

Britain plans forces totaling 88,000 for the Royal Navy, 165,000 to 180,000 for the army and 135,000 for the Royal Air Force.

turning radius. More traffic might use Villa Avenue down to the Linden Lane underpass rather than going directly under the Lincoln Avenue underpass to Lincoln Avenue itself, he said.

"What about these one-way streets?" asked Melvin Geister of 14 Solar Court.

Second and Third Streets would handle intra-city traffic efficiently, Coleman answered, only if they are made one-way so that the traffic signals can be synchronized — presumably at 25 miles an hour.

Lester S. Ayers, owner of Ayers Paint and Supply Co. at 813 Third Street, declared the one-way street pattern would cut his business.

"I don't think so," Coleman replied. "Making this a one-way street will bring more traffic in front of your door."

Asked why rapid transit could not be run along the center divider of the freeway or alongside the freeway structure, Coleman answered that it would result in increased congestion by mixing through traffic and vehicles heading for the rapid transit station.

Rapid transit hopes to use much of the railroad right-of-way, he said.

He predicted the rapid transit system is at least 10 or 15 years away.

Why close Francisco Boulevard instead of continuing it north?

Too much congestion with traffic which will come off the Irwin Street northbound off-ramp and then turn right on Second Street toward San Pedro Road, Coleman exlained.

How will offramps be marked? Will any be marked Lincoln Avenue, for example, or just downtown San Rafael? Coleman said that is up to the Division of Highways.

Joseph B. Rice, owner of the J. B. Rice Co. at 430 Francisco Boulevard and 10 Auburn Street, pleaded with the city council to solve the problem of locating the highway expansion as soon as possible "so we know where we stand."

Said Rice: "This plan affects at least four automobile agencies, three cement mixing plants and a glove company and almost all property along the south side of Francisco Boulevard."

C. F. Greene, assistant district engineer of the Division of Highways, said he had received a copy of Coleman's report last Friday afternoon.

"It's too soon to make any comment," Greene said, "but we urge the council to act as soon as reasonable so that we can negotiate a freeway agreement."

Greene did comment on the plan, however. He said not to worry too much about the proposed third level of the main interchange which would be about 70 feet high.

"We don't even know if the proposed east-west freeway (Route 69) will be anchored here in San Rafael," Greene said. "We included the ramps in the long-range plan just in case it was brought to this interchange."

Mayor John F. McInnis reassured the spectators that the city was trying to solve the problem as soon as possible.

He said the Coleman report would be on the council agenda next Monday night.

Auto Pileup Injures One

A Cotati engineering firm employee suffered minor injuries in a six-car pile-up northbound on rainswept Highway 101 south of the Hamilton Air Force Base signal light yesterday afternoon.

John Hanushak, 35, was driving the fifth car in line, which was sideswiped by a skidding car driven by Marlena Rose Signa of Elk Grove, Sacramento County.

The Hanushak car went off to the right and hit a pole. The Signa car went on to strike another, of which was not identified in the California Highway Patrol report. It was driven onto one driven by D. L. Quinn of Santa Rosa, which hit another driven by Donald C. Morton of Petaluma, which bumped a car at head of line driven by Dennis Sheldon Falk of 11 Shields Lane, Novato.

"There are monkeys climbing all over the house; they're trying to attack me," said the voice on the telephone, calling the Marin County sheriff's office.

There, Wiggins found Larry A. Zoppi, 48, swinging from the porch railing.

The monkeys? Oh, they had all gone, Zoppi told the officer.

After spending the night at the county jail, Zoppi was released on $52.50 bail, to face a charge of drunkenness.

against Hammarskjold's predecessor, Trygve Lie, in a dispute over admission of Communist China to the U.N.

The Kremlin began its attack on Hammarskjold last September when Khrushchev demanded his removal in a speech to the General Assembly.

Khrushchev proposed that the secretary generalship be abolished and that Hammarskjold be replaced by a three-man presidium. His proposal won support only from the Soviet bloc.

Hammarskjold replied to Khrushchev with a dramatic speech in which he told the assembly "I shall remain in my post."

In the Lie case Russia refused to recognize Lie for two years. Lie's term was extended upon its expiration in 1951 but he finally resigned in 1952 to "save the peace."

Today's statement recited the history of the Congo operation and then launched into a condemnation of Belgium for actions which "led to the murder" of Lumumba and his two aides, Maurice Mpolo and Joseph Okito.

Russia called the deaths "an international crime incompatible with the charter of the United Nations and a flagrant violation of the declaration of colonial countries adopted by the 15th General Assembly in the United Nations."

It demanded Hammarskjold's removal and said "the Soviet government will not maintain any relations whatsoever with Hammarskjold and will not recognize him as an official of the United Nations."

Girl Breaks Bones In Fall Off Gate

Four-year-old Sandra Cordone of Novato suffered fractures of skull and clavicle yesterday when she fell from a fence gate.

The child had climbed the gate at her home at 570 Sunset Parkway in fear of a dog in the yard. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cordone and recently had recovered from a bout with pneumonia, Novato police reported.

She was in satisfactory condition today in San Rafael General Hospital. A neighbor, Mrs. Elizabeth Pilacelli, 560 Sunset Parkway, is credited with reviving the child after the fall by use of mouth to mouth resuscitation.

Venus-Bound Station Relaying Information

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's Venus-bound space station zoomed ahead at 2.5 miles per second today and Soviet scientists reported its equipment was relaying back information as planned.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said two playback sessions of data from the station had been triggered by radio command from earth and that a big volume of data about space conditions was received.

The 1,418-pound "automatic interplanetary station" was rocketed from an orbiting Sputnik Sunday, the Soviets said. It is designed to penetrate the clouds perpetually blanketing Venus and reveal some of its secrets. Soviet scientists refused to comment, however, on speculation that the space ship carried cameras aboard.

Tass said the station was 303,600 miles from earth at noon yesterday soaring between the constellations of Cetus (the Whale) and Pisces (the Fish) in the center of the triangle formed by the constellations of Beta Aries, Alpha Pegasus and Beta Cetus.

"After a few days," Tass said, "the automatic interplanetary station will be out of the so-called sphere of terrestrial gravitation."

All equipment aboard was functioning as intended, Tass said. During the first playback, the temperature aboard was 68 degrees fahrenheit. The account said a temperature control system was designed to assure proper conditions for operation of equipment on the station.

Hallinan Son Wins Awards In Moot Court

Patrick (Butch) Hallinan, oldest son of Ross attorney Vincent Hallinan, received two first place awards today for his arguments in moot court at Hastings College of Law in San Francisco.

The 26-year-old, second-year law student argued a theoretical criminal case involving constitutional rights of search and seizure—a familiar subject to his father.

But unlike his father, young Hallinan represented the prosecution. He won his case.

Hallinan received what is believed to be the highest mark ever gotten in the moot court arguments at Hastings and won first place in his class for combined oral and written work in moot court.

His prize was a six volume set of law books, which his father said is worth more than $100.

Seventy-two teams of second year students competed in moot court conflicts during the past three months. Judging were two third-year students and Justice B. Rey Schauer of the California Supreme Court.

Last week, another of Hallinan's six sons, 22-year-old Michael (Tuffy), was accepted to enter University of California Medical School. Michael was accepted after only three years of pre-medical school.

BREAKING ICE SO OIL CAN MOVE

The Coast Guard icebreaker lead the way through the ice-clogged Hudson River in the Newburgh-Kingston area of New York as it escorts fuel oil barges upriver toward Albany. This low-level air view was made from a Coast Guard plane. SELLING JOB AHEAD

New Brown Plan Draws Comments

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Reaction to Gov. Edmund G. Brown's first stage proposal for overhauling the state government indicated today the administration has a big selling job on its hands.

As a start, the governor yesterday urged creation of four super-agencies to oversee existing departments. He called, too, for abolishing 10 minor boards and commissions.

Brown steered clear of any recommendations to wipe out elective offices—once proposed by a study commission—or to group the state's scattered tax-collecting functions into a single Department of Revenue.

Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie (D-Antioch), house majority caucus leader, praised the governor's message to the legislature.

"The proposal to commence a businesslike reorganization of the wasteful, inefficient, cumbersome and overly complex state government has considerable merit," he said.

Other comment was more restrained or openly critical.

Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno), Senate majority leader, said he would like to give the governor's program more study.

"I suppose a good look at the setup of state departments would be in order," he said. "We have made no such examination for at least 20 years.

"However, I can't see any reason for change unless economies result, without curtailment of efficiency, of course."

Assemblyman Milton Marks (R-San Francisco), author of bills to establish a Department of Revenue, expressed disappointment that the governor chose to postpone that phase of reorganization.

"It indicates that there may be some opposition to my bills which has not been there before," he said.

Assemblyman Harold K. Levering (R-Los Angeles), a frequent critic of the Democratic administration, said there are some good points in the governor's program but that he's going at it the wrong way.

Referring to the proposed super-agencies, Levering said, "I'm inclined to think the governor is overlaying the present government with another layer which is going to cost the people more money and establish a powerful bureaucracy."

Brown takes the position that state government has grown too big for one man to keep up with, and the administrators of the super-agencies would help the chief executive maintain closer control.

EDUCATION AID MESSAGE DUE IN NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President John F. Kennedy's special message to Congress for federal aid for education won't go to the Capitol until next week.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Rep. John W. McCormack, the House floor leader, made the announcement at the White House.

Asked whether there was any particular reason for the delay, the speaker replied: "No, they just said they weren't quite ready."

Bill Would Give Court Smut Peddler Control

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The legislature had under consideration today a bill designed to increase court control over obscene literature and to stiffen penalties for smut peddlers.

Assemblyman Bert DeLotto (D-Fresno), said that the bill he introduced yesterday had the backing of California's Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk.

DeLotto's bill provides that police officers may not destroy seized pornographic material until a court has made a final determination that it is obscene.

His bill defines obscenity as "where in the work as a whole, the dominant appeal is to the prurient." It provides that courts may use discretion in applying the definition.

The measure makes it an offense to possess obscene material "in schools and places where school supplies are sold."

Under DeLotto's bill, penalties would increase in proportion to the amount of lewd material involved.

Paradise Drive Wasn't Quite One

A priest hit a Highway 101 sign labeled "Paradise Drive" early today, turned his car over, but emerged unscathed.

Rev. Eugene Francis Burns, 34, of 217 Laurel Grove, Kentfield, who is with the Dominican Fathers Novitiate House in Ross, was northbound on the Redwood Highway half a mile south of the Corte Madera overpass at 3 a.m. when his car strayed off the roadway and struck the signpost.

The car then spun left, back onto the road, and capsized.

Solon Renews Solon Again Attacks TV

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Sen. Stanford C. Shaw (D-Ontario) today renewed his attack on television commercials, especially at dinner hours when they "discuss bowels, hemorrhoids, sore feet, livers and nasal passages."

Shaw also criticized regular programs in which he said "prime viewing time (is) consumed almost exclusively by inane situation comedies, trifling game shows and an oppressive bulk of repetitious mystery and western programs."

HIS RESOLUTION

The senator introduced a resolution demanding that the Federal Communications Commission "take immediate, conscientious steps to improve the television industry or immediately surrender its control to the states."

Shaw introduced a bill in the 1959 legislature to control TV commercials, but it was dropped when it was learned that television is under jurisdiction of the federal government only.

He said shifting television regulating responsibility to the states "might create an uncoordinated means of bettering the industry," but he added that "it could not conceivably be less effective than the present absence of regulation."

ACCUSES INDUSTRY

He said more than 95 million persons watch television and the three major networks apparently have decided that the 20 million "minority viewers" who watched "such abandoned or curtailed programs" as "Playhouse 90," "Philco Playhouse," "Omnibus" and "Kraft Playhouse" are "insignificant."

"The industry has worked to eliminate programs of intellectual controversy, live drama, other than sports and news, classics of music and literature and documentaries," he said.

New Moisturizing Colonaid Stops

CONSTIPATION DUE TO DEHYDRATION

without gag, bloat or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. Planners Approve Co-op Zone Plea

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night paved the way for a consumer-owned supermarket by approving a zoning change for a site at the Corte Madera Wye.

Consumers Cooperative of Berkeley, Inc., has an option on the property, bounded by Tamalpais Drive, Old County Road, Meadowsweet Drive and the Billings-Hutchinson office building.

The commission approved rezoning from professional and administrative office district to local shopping district. The matter now goes to the town council for its action.

A large group of citizens both for and against the rezoning crowded the town hall. More persons spoke in favor of the project.

Some objected to the traffic problem a new market would create. Some merchants from the Corte Madera Shopping Center across Tamalpais Drive from the proposed site argued against the Cooperative. But other persons said those shopping at the cooperative would also go to the shopping center and probably spend more money there, too.

The commission overruled a decision of zoning administrator William McBride and instructed him to issue a permit to allow the Edgewater Inn to install a 288-square foot directional sign. McBride had refused to do so on the ground that the owner, James Stockman, had not agreed in writing to remove signs now on its property before the new sign went up.

The commission also decided it was not in favor of a council proposal that would take approval of free-standing signs out of the commission's jurisdiction and leave them up to the council.

The commission adjourned to 9:30 a.m. Feb. 25, when it will inspect a home at 12 Crescent Road. The owners, Andre and Gabrielle Claeys, were granted a variance by the board of adjustment to put on addition on the house, but a neighbor, L. W. Allen, appealed because he said it would block his view.

Commissioners John Adlard and Robert LaDow were absent.

VALHALLA INN SIGN WINKS AT SAUSALITO

The on-again, off-again neon sign atop the Valhalla Inn in Sausalito was on again last night in violation of the city council's request.

Ordered off last Tuesday, the sign was turned out Wednesday night. Friday it was back on and, according to City Manager Charles A. Brown, the sign now remains on all night instead of being shut off at 2 a.m.

A new sign, with a picture frame and sequins, located in the setback area at 201 Bridgeway, remains in place although City Atty. John B. Ehlen said it is illegal since it is in the setback area and no building permit was taken out.

The matter is the first subject on the city council's agenda at tonight's adjourned meeting.

Use Permit Conditions Set For Marinship

A committee of the Sausalito City Council last night met with representatives of Heath Land Co. and Allied Grocers Inc. to work out conditions of the Heath-Allied Grocers request for a use permit and variance to place more than one building on a lot in Marinship.

The companies plan a shopping center.

Council committee members Howard Sievers and George E. Keeney, with Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., who is not on the committee, reworded some of the conditions of the use permit and variance and added two more.

They are: That the developers be required to vote in favor of an assessment district which could comply with city development plans and that there be an architectural review of the buildings.

Helen B. Kerr, editor of Marin county weekly papers during the past few years and unsuccessful candidate for Sausalito city council, has joined the firm of Gate Real Estate in Sausalito as a saleswoman, according to John C. Richardson, broker for the firm.

7th-8th Grade School Rooms Are Delayed

Trustees of the San Jose School District still are hoping for a dry spell which will let preliminary work proceed on construction of a seventh and eighth grade school.

Contractors have not been able to gain the required amount of compaction of soil, after grading of the site at San Jose Boulevard and Sunset Parkway. The work had been scheduled for completion more than two weeks ago.

Soil engineers say that work can be completed after a letup in rains and using the slight lessening in compaction requirements of the state, trustees heard at their meeting last night. Bids for construction of the school will be opened Thursday.

In other business, trustees:

1. Noted enrollment in the district now stands at 2,010, compared with the fewer than 1,800 in September.

2. Noted that provision will have to be made in next year's budget for long-term lease-purchase agreement for a school bus to cost about $17,000. Approximately 400 students are being transported in five buses. The number is expected to rise to 686 next fall.

3. Heard that the bus from San Rafael High School, scheduled late in the afternoon to allow students from the district to participate in after-school activities, may be discontinued. About five students use the bus each day.

NOVATO COUNCIL TO MEET

Palmistry, Jet Plane, Trees On City Agenda

Novato City councilmen meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the city hall with two tree items on the agenda, a jet plane, an ordinance on palmistry, plus business adding up to 28 separate items.

Councilmen will consider a report on possible removal of a tree, after requests from two residents that trees be removed because they are a nuisance.

Also coming up are suggestions for location of 12 trees on Grant Avenue, the city's prime business street, by the Novato Garden Club.

Councilmen will hear a summary of requests for street lighting in the new city in addition to reports of needs by city departments. A street lighting outline from Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is not expected before April 1.

Councilmen will consider introduction of an ordinance prohibiting palm reading, a report on the jet plane being given the city by the Air Force, and a request for purchase of a $405 n.imeograph machine.

The next meeting will be an executive session expected this weekend for council interviews of public works director candidates, followed by a public policy discussion Feb. 21 on public works and police departments.

Works Director Interviews Set

The Novato City Council is expected to interview two candidates this weekend for the post of public works director.

Both candidates, chosen by City Administrator J. Julien Baget from numerous applicants, are registered engineers.

Both have requested starting salaries above the minimum $675 set by the council after long discussion.

Baget will ask city Councilmen, meeting tonight, to decide if they are willing to increase the starting salary. If so, Baget may appoint the director at next Tuesday's council meeting.

FAKE SCULPTURE — This warrior's head of one of three large and famous terra cotta sculptress at the New York Metropolitan Museum of Art that were revealed as fakes. They were supposed to be Etruscan art of the fifth century B. C., and supposedly came from the Italian peninsula. The other pieces are six and eight feet tall figures. Skeptical archaeologists have been suspicious of them for years, and finally proved that a glaze on the objects was not produced by an ancient Greek method, but a modern dyeing agent. The distrust of the experts was confirmed and the sculptress, believed produced by a forger in recent years, stayed on display, with an explanation. (AP Wirephoto)

Mariners Cove School Plans Go To Board

Larkspur School District trustees will consider architects' final plans for the district's fourth school to be built in Mariners Cove at 7:30 p.m. today in Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

The board also will hear recommendations from the committee appointed to suggest a name for the new school. The committee is expected to offer the names San Clemente and Corte Marina for board action.

Supt. Vaughn Seidel will report on transfer of title to the site for the school from San Clemente Land Co.

District teachers will present an evaluation of the "slip session" in effect at Henry C. Hall School for the past year.

Also on the agenda are a request of the little league to repair the baseball diamond at Larkspur-Corte Madera School, a crossing guard for Henry C. Hall School, and the April school board election.

The original inhabitants of the Delaware Valley were Indians calling themselves "Lenni Lenape" or "true men."

Training Setup Starts For Registered Nurses

The first training program for registered nurses in Marin County was inaugurated today at Ross General Hospital.

It also marked the first expansion of the campus of San Francisco State College's school of nursing outside San Francisco.

Three juniors from the school of nursing make up the first class, which started today at the Ross hospital. They will spend three weeks learning operations of Ross's unusual "open" psychiatric ward, then be replaced by three other student nurses.

"We chose Ross Hospital because it has facilities in the psychiatric department that we were unable to duplicate in San Francisco," said Rheba de Tornyay, head of the college's nursing school.

Ross is the first Marin County hospital to be accredited by the State Board of Nurse Examiners as a teaching hospital, noted Dr. John C. Siemens, hospital administrator. It will supply conference room and necessary teaching aids and defray all expenses of the program.

Although all classroom instruction and immediate supervision will be handled by the accompanying instructor from San Francisco State College, Ross Hospital nurses and doctors will work closely with the students on the wards.

Several years ago both Marin General and Ross General Hospitals participated in the training of licensed vocational nurses receiving a one-year course at College of Marin for the L.V.N. degree.

Easter Seals Being Prepared

Volunteers this week were stuffing 44,000 envelopes with Easter Seals in preparation for the annual fund raising drive of the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults which begins March 2.

Sheets of Easter Seals were inserted in the envelopes by the Dioctos of College of Marin, Senior and Junior Hi-Y of Sir Francis Drake High School, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Gamma Delta, Lawyers' Wives, Alpha Delta Pi and Crippled Children Society members.

The group has been active in Novato for three years in sponsoring speakers and discussions ranging from foreign policy to anthropology.

The new sessions will begin with the communism discussion and continue to consideration of Latin America, the African nations and socialized medicine. A bibliography of books, magazines and other references will be prepared for each session.

Each discussion group will be limited to 20 persons, both members and non-members of the forum. More seminars will be scheduled if there is a demand. Prospective participants may inquire of Mrs. Raymond Johnson, 15 Novato Lane, for information on the first meeting to be held at the home of forum program chairman William Luft, 1287 Leafwood Drive.

Forum President is Ernest Schallinger. Nathan Schafler is vice president.

Trustees To Meet

Trustees of the Mill Valley School District will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the district offices. They did not meet last night because of the holiday.

Kansas Teacher Wins Pancake Race Skillet

LIBERAL, Kan. (UPI) — Twenty-seven-year-old Carolyn McGlamery, a grade school teacher, flashed across the finish line in one minute and 10 seconds today to claim the silver skillet for Liberal in the International Pancake Race against the women of Olney, England.

Miss McGlamery's time was four seconds faster than that recorded earlier today in Olney by the defending champion, store clerk Carol Vorley.

An estimated 12,000 persons lined the S-shaped, 415-yard course through the heart of this southwestern Kansas wheat-growing community as Miss McGlamery raced ahead of 23 other contestants.

The Anglo-American race has been a Shrove Tuesday tradition since 1950 and was a highlight of this year's Kansas Centennial celebration.

The silver skillet is emblematic of the international race that has its roots in 15th Century English folklore. Today's Liberal victory evened the series at six wins each.

In Olney, Miss Vorley's time was only four seconds slower than the record she set in the 1960 contest, and Miss McGlamery's time today tied that mark.

The ancient rules call for the contestants to flip their pancake in a skillet at the starting line, race the 415 yards and flip their pancake again at the finish line.

The Olney racers cooked only the single pancake for use in the race. They swore off eating pancakes before the race because they said the food is too fattening for athletes.

Mrs. Schultz Rips Board's Committees

New formation of supervisors' committees to play an important role in Marin County government is innovation representing "a step backward, not forward," former supervisor Vera L. Schultz told a meeting of the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs last night.

Mrs. Schultz said the former practice of placing major reliance on the services of the county administrator was actually the more advanced type of procedure and that dependence on committees is a reversion to older, less efficient practice.

She cited the fact that the county is without bonded indebtedness and that tax rates have been cut twice within the recent past as demonstrating the efficiency of "an administrative government in Marin."

Recreation Session To Start At Tam

Report Is Due On Incorporation

The Strawberry Property Owners Assn. will hear a committee report Monday at 8 p.m. at Strawberry Point School on a study made on possible incorporation of the Tiburon Peninsula, vice president William Young said today.

The association did not meet last night because the school was locked for the holiday.

Directors of the association agreed to look into incorporation.

Fusselman Describes Possible Marin Future

William D. Fusselman, chairman of the county board of supervisors, look into his "politician's crystal ball" this morning and gave 68 members of the Marin County Real Estate Board a glimpse into the county's future.

The occasion was the weekly breakfast meeting of the board at King Cotton Restaurant in San Rafael. Chairman of the meeting was Lynn Barr, Tiburon realtor.

Fusselman's predictions included elevated highways, the possibility of a maze of docks and rail connections to the east handling goods from the Orient, and an eventual re-districting of the present supervisorial territories.

He also said that neither he nor "anyone connected with" the recent work-stoppage on the civic center "had any thought to stop the first stage of the civic center.

"We only wanted time to see if it would be feasible to construct a county hospital," he said.

Fusselman proposed that the second and third stages of the center should be financed through bond issues voted on by the people, instead of from tax revenues.

He envisioned a county hospital surrounded by one-story dwellings housing elderly persons in a low-income bracket.

The 19-year veteran of the board of supervisors took a dim view of a single city of Marin encompassing the present county. "A combined public works department might save money," he said, but discounted much saving by merger of police and fire departments.

As to elevated highways, he said the proposed system of rapid transit would have a bearing on how soon they were needed, but double deck highways would come ultimately.

He agreed with Daniel F. Deedy, executive manager of the real estate board, that bomb shelters in homes would be regular features of new homes of the future. One of his objections to the civic center, he said, was its location in "a vulnerable position" adjacent to Hamilton Air Force Base.

The supervisors, he explained, were unable to exert too much influence on location of proposed freeways and traffic interchanges in the county.

Many years ago, he reminisced, he had thought that as soon as the Japan-China trouble was settled, Marin would be the location for docks and rails which would draw trade from the Far East.

"It might happen yet," he said hopefully.

"I am told that you represent the largest industry in Marin—even bigger than the milk industry," he told his hosts.

"I think the future of Marin is right here in this room."

Midwest Schools Climb In Hoop Poll

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The continued rise of Cincinnati and Kansas State to positions of national prominence marked this week's voting in the Associated Press basketball poll as Ohio State and St. Bonaventure continued to hold the top two places.

Apparently nothing is going to disturb the Buckeyes (18-0) and the Bonnies (18-1) unless they get beaten. Meanwhile, the two teams from the powerful midlands conferences keep moving up, and they could be ready to hand out those lickings by the time the NCAA tournament rolls around.

For the ninth straight week Ohio State drew all the first place votes of the AP panel of sports writers and broadcasters for a perfect 360 point score. St. Bonaventure had 35 second-place votes and one third for 323 points.

Scoring is on the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second, etc. Voting is based on results through last Saturday.

Cincinnati, not even in the top 10 two weeks ago, moved up to fourth as it moved to the front in the Missouri Valley Conference race. The Bearcats (17-3) were fifth last week. Kansas State (15-3) held 10th place in mid-January, dropped out for a week and then climbed back to sixth this week.

Duke continued to hold third place despite its second defeat of the season. Bradley, second in the Valley standings, slipped to fifth. North Carolina, Southern California, Iowa and West Virginia—the only newcomer—fill the last four places in the top 10.

Palmer Hits 1961 Victory Trail Early

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Amazing Arnold Palmer, 1960's undisputed king of golf, is off and winning at an even faster pace this year.

The long-hitting Miami muscle-man defeated Doug Sanders by three strokes in a playoff yesterday to cop the Phoenix Open championship, his second in six tournaments, and mark the fourth time this season he had finished among the top five money winners.

At this time a year ago, Palmer had lined up with the first five at the pay window only once. That was when he won the Palm Springs title. He wound up the year with eight championships and official prize money totaling more than $75,000.

Playing with the aggressive, chance-taking style which has stamped him as the game's greatest finisher, Palmer went after Sanders early. He took the lead with a birdie on the second hole and never relinquished it.

After both players, tied at the end of the regulation 72 holes at 270, bogied the first hole, Palmer fired nothing but pars and birdies. He came in with a three-under-par 67 in spite of a one-stroke penalty for an unplayable lie in the top of a palm tree on No. 18. He recovered for a par 5 on that one.

Sanders, who got into the playoff with a Arizona Country Club course record 62 Sunday, finished with a 70 on two birdies, two bogies and 14 pars. He beat Palmer on only one hole, that when he birdied the 16th. His other birdie came on the par-5 eighth hole and was matched by Palmer.

The winner took $4,300 in prize money. Sanders won $3,000.

Area To See Only Light Cage Action

Santa Clara meets San Jose State and St. Mary's faces University of the Pacific tonight in the only West Coast Athletic Conference basketball games scheduled.

A light Northern California basketball evening, tonight's only other game has the Cal Aggies (1-4) at Sacramento State (4-1) for a Far Western Conference tilt.

St. Mary's Gaels (3-2) are host to Pacific's winless Tigers (0-3) in a game that matches two of the area's top scorers — Tom Meschery of St. Mary's and Ken Stanley of Pacific. Stanley's 20.3 average is the best in the State.

Santa Clara and San Jose's Spartans clash at San Jose Civic Auditorium. The Broncos (3-4) and the Spartans (3-3) always are up for their neighborhood battle.

The San Jose game matches the nation's two finest defensive records—or, you might say, th two most deliberate teams in the country. San Jose has allowed just 50.1 points a game; the Broncos have given up 50.2 a game. But neither club shoots with wild abandon. Part of the reason for their fine defensive rating can be attributed to their care in setting up their own shots.

Pony League Team Parents Will Meet

Parents of boys on the Gallinas Valley team in the North Marin Pany Baseball League are urged to attend a meeting tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the multi-purpose room at Santa Venetia School.

Changes in the league and plans for the 1961 season will be discussed.

Sausalitan Captures Finn Class Regatta

Warwick Tomkins of Sausalito won two races Sunday to bag top honors in a Finn class regatta on the Oakland Estuary.

Second place went to Bill MacLean of Alameda while Belvedere's Les Brilliant came in third.

RED HEADS — Ella Cross (above) will lead the All-American Red Heads women's basketball team into Marin County next Tuesday night for an exhibition contest at Drake High School. The barnstorming Red Heads, who more often than not manage to beat men's teams, will oppose a team composed of faculty members at Drake High starting at 8:15 p.m. The game will be sponsored by the Drake Benchwarmers Club. Admission is $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Two Leading Cage Powers Knocked Off

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It probably isn't an omen for the O-men, but Ohio State's rampaging Buckeyes might take heed of what happened to Mississippi State and Kansas State.

Until last night those two teams were rambling along in their conference basketball races almost as comfortably as Ohio has been in the Big Ten. Then Kentucky and Colorado lowered the boom as effectively as Clancy ever did and now almost anything could happen in the Southeastern Conference and the Big Eight.

BUCKEYES BREEZE

Ohio State, meanwhile, made it 9-0 in the Big Ten standing and 24 straight in their two-year string with an 89-65 victory over Northwestern that wasn't particularly pleasing to Coach Fred Taylor. He thought his team "seemed to let down a bit." The Bucks' turn could come next, if they do let down—possibly against determined Iowa Saturday.

Kentucky, going nowhere but making itself felt in the Southeastern race, handed Mississippi State's Maroons their first conference defeat, 68-62, on the Maroons' court. Colorado saved enough of an early lead to beat Kansas State 81-80 and knock the Wildcats, ranked sixth nationally in the Associated Press poll, out of the Big Eight lead.

KANSAS IN LEAD

Kansas, which has been tied with K-State, moved out in front by crushing Missouri 88-72. Mississippi State still leads the SEC with an 8-1 record but Florida and Louisiana State moved up to tie beaten Vanderbilt for second at 6-3 while Kentucky, winning four straight, is 6-4.

One other conference leader met its first defeat when Eastern Kentucky whipped Western Kentucky 81-72. Western now is 7-1 and Eastern 7-2 in the Ohio Valley Conference, whose winner automatically qualifies for the NCAA tournament.

Amidst all this furore, independent St. Bonaventure, ranked second to Ohio State nationally, breezed to a 95-79 victory over NIT tournament-bound Providence. Tom Stith led the Bonnies to their 10th straight and 19th in 20 games although he was outscored 30-28 by Jim Hadnot of Providence.

LUCAS WARM

Although Taylor thought Ohio State wasn't particularly sharp, Northwestern Coach Bill Rohr called the Bucks "the greatest team I have ever seen" and Jerry Lucas the greatest player.

Lucas and Mel Nowell did some fantastic shooting to give Ohio State a big lead, then sat out the finish as Taylor used all 17 men on his squad.

Friars Aim Verbal Barrage At Lippy

By BOB MYERS

BEVERLY HILLS (AP)—Lippy Lee Durocher, no stranger to the verbal barb, has enough insults heaped on his baldish head to last at least through the coming baseball season.

They were all in fun, however, dealt out last night by his fellow Friars Club members. They saluted Durocher on his return to baseball as a coach of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"This is a night I will always remember," said Leo. And possibly the 1,500 guests who paid $15 a piece for the charity event won't forget it either, although some of them may try.

It is barely possible that Conrad Hilton, at whose hotel the affair was staged, may have to shed out the drapes and furnishings for a slight fumigation job after the blue-blue evening.

Such master chefs of ribald roast—and — toast as comedians George Burns, George Jessel and Milton Berle, plus exumpire Beans Reardon, gave Leo a pretty good cutting up.

If not a four-star event, it certainly was a great evening for the four-letter word. Dean Martin actually startled the gathering when he opened his remarks with a simple, "good evening." Martin managed to rectify this polite introduction in the course of his performance.

Reardon in his quaintly explosive delivery said there was not sufficient time to tell all he thought of Durocher and he noted:

"By nature, I am not an insulting person. Whatever opinions I have just come to me."

A longtime diamond feudist of Durocher, Beans then gave a few opinions. "Lousy" was perhaps the kindest thing he said about Leo.

There were others — Buddy Hackett, Joe Garagiola, Sammy Cahn, Dan Dailey, Tony Curtis, Fred Haney, Jeff Chandler, Mervyn LeRoy, Kirk Douglas, Don Drysdale, who paid respects of sorts to Durocher.

At the conclusion, Jessel in a serious vein asked for divine blessing on those present. It may have been a little too late.

BOWLING

Chuck Gearheard edged out Tony Korpi for top scoring honors in the Teenage League at Marin Bowl Sunday with a 494 series. His games were 157, 156 and 181.

Korpi scored 493 on lines of 167, 170 and 156. In third place with 164-181-142—487 was Don Muelrath. He and Gearheard shared high game honors. Bob Tasch was fourth leading scorer with 150-123-178—460.

In Saturday's Junior League Frank Mooney led the way with a 419 series on games of 165, 126 and 128. Lance Krigbaum had 125-145-142—412 for runnerup honors. High among the girls was Susan Gray with two identical games of 114 for a 228 series.

S. Marin Pony Loop Elects New Officers

Richard W. Jewett of Corte Madera was elected president of the Southern Marin Pony League for 1961 at a meeting held last night.

Serving with him will be Richard Stevens, Mill Valley, first vice president; Maj. Carl Giesinger, Strawberry, second vice president, and Harry H. Harrison, secretary-treasurer.

Russ Jumper Arrives For Meets In U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Valery Brumel, who cleared a fabulous 7 feet, 4½ inches in the high jump last month, said today he's ready to resume his battle with John Thomas to decide the greatest jumper in history.

The 18-year-old Brumel, along with two other Soviet athletes — broad jumper Igor Ter-Ovanesyan and distance runner Evgeny Momotkov — arrived last night for three meets here starting with the New York Athletic Club games Friday.

Brumel, who beat Thomas in the Olympics in Rome last year, was full of praise for his American rival.

After the New York Athletic Club meet, the three Russians will be entered in the National AAU Championships a week from Saturday and the Knights of Columbus Games on March 3.

Marin Lifters Win At Oakland

Four Marin County youngsters bagged two championships and two second place awards Saturday at the 1961 Northern California AAU Junior Weightlifting Tournament at Oakland.

Titlists from Marin were Mike Bankmann in the 123-pound class and Gerry Denman in the 132-pound class.

Runners up were Leon Center and Dave Cooley.

The four piled up enough points to give the MarVel Athletic Club of San Rafael the team championship over the San Francisco club.

Can Giants Convince Supervisors That Background Fence Is Needed?

HANLEY

San Francisco's Board of Supervisors will begin shooting the breeze today, not about the wind in Candlestick Park, but a centerfield background fence for the home of the Giants.

Since none of the board members is an ex-ballplayer it is only reasonable that they will ask pointed questions why $45,000 should be spent on several carloads of lumber to erect a 45-foot high and 122-foot wide barrier.

After all, it is their duty to see that the taxpayer's dollar is spent wisely and not on frou-frou stuff. In this instance, however, tax dollars are not involved. The $45,000 would come from the substantial revenue Candlestick produced last year. Nevertheless, the supervisors are just as properly concerned about spending that kind of money.

SO, IF THEY act in their customary cautious fashion the season should open on April 11 to a clatter of carpenters' hammers which should have been at work last October when the 1960 season closed.

It may be difficult for some supervisors to understand why batters need a good background to see the ball coming at them at 90 miles per hour. Perhaps the best way to convince them would be to give them a bat and let them stand at home plate while a sidearmer like Don Drysdale warmed up.

After disposing of the backdrop bill, the supervisors will ultimately get around to considering whether they should authorize $50,000 or $20,000 for an expert survey of Candlestick's winds.

Everyone knows the winds are there to stay but it will take an expert to recommend what can be done about them. Four months ago George Harmon, engineer for San Francisco's Park and Recreation Commission, gave Mayor George Christopher his progress report about the winds.

Harmon consulted with a group of Stanford specialists, named Metronics Associates, and advised the mayor they would do the survey job for $50,000. Since that time another group of wind experts from Long Beach, indicated they might be able to do the job for $20,000, but this would not include the building of a model of the stadium and subjecting it to the same kind of winds buffeting Candlestick.

WHEN THE WIND problem finally does reach the supervisors debating hall, the 1961 season probably will be over. Nothing can be done about the wind this year and unless the $50,000 or $20,000 is authorized for a survey, nothing might be done about it in 1962.

Like the backdrop cost, the outlay for the wind survey would come out of the revenue produced by Candlestick itself.

In 1960 Candlestick produced $225,000 in rent from the Giants, $300,000 parking fees, another $40,000 in advertising and $117,000 in "possessory interest" taxes from the Giants—a total of $782,000 of which only $353,000 was needed to pay last year's five per cent interest on the $5,500,000 bonds that built the major league ball park.

Dick Savitt Quits Tennis After Big Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Big time tennis — Wimbledon, Forest Hills and the Davis Cup—holds no more fascination for Dick Savitt.

The towering, stoop-shouldered New Yorker, who at 34 still can match shots with any amateur in the game, plans to put his prized National Indoor championship trophy in the family showcase and quit tournament play for good.

"And I mean for good," Savitt said today. "I may play in a weekend social tournament somewhere, but never in a national event—not in this one or any other. I wouldn't have played this year if I hadn't wanted that trophy so badly."

In beating Whitey Reed of Alameda, Calif., 6-2, 11-9, 6-3 yesterday at the Seventh Regiment Armory, the Manhattan oilman won the National Indoor for the third time and retired the tall silver trophy. He also won in 1952 and 1958.

BUILDING THE RAMP — This was the scene as manpower and heavy equipment worked on the Marin Rod and Gun Club's new boat launching ramp, a project now nearly finished. The helmet of a diver assisting in the work can be seen in the water.

Boat Ramp Project Moves Into Its Completion Stage

Boat owner members of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be glad to know that the club's new boat launching ramp is now in its final stage of completion and should be ready for use in about a week. Actually, the ramp itself is finished and all that remains to be done is to fill in the approach. Weather permitting, this should be accomplished within a few days, and, if all goes well, you should be able to launch your boat next weekend.

For those interested in details, here are the vital statistics. It is a single ramp, 12 feet wide and 75 feet long, with 8-inch thick reinforced concrete slabs set on 12 x 12 timbers resting upon twelve sunken pilings of pre-tested strength. In due course, a walkway will be constructed parallel to the ramp, at the end of which will be a floating wharf. When the fill for the approach has settled sufficiently, it will be hard-topped to provide maximum convenience.

The ramp has an approximate grade of 14 per cent. The resulting shorter length constitutes a safeguard against getting your car in the water. In addition, a fire hose will be installed for flushing the surface to prevent any accumulation of silt.

Your club has every reason to be proud of this brand new addition to its array of fine facilities. With boating activities constantly on the increase, we are more than pleased that our members will now have the opportunity to launch their boats from a first-rate ramp which is located in what is probably one of the most strategic points in the county. Happy boating!

Game Law Arrests In State Hit 12,000

Department of Fish and Game Wildlife Protection personnel arrested nearly 12,000 persons in 1960. The violators paid a total of almost $375,000 in fines and served over 5,000 days in jail.

The leading violation was fishing without a license. There were 3,439 arrests for this offense. Among anglers, the next largest number of arrests was fishing with more than one rod —891. Among hunters, most violators got caught with a loaded gun in the car. Arrests for this infraction totalled 1,283 in 1960. The second largest number of arrests among nimrods involved deer. There were 737 of these.

Minimum violations concerning the fisheries were for stream obstruction. There were only four of these last year.

For hunters the lowest number of citations involved bear—21.

The lowest monthly number of arrests was in February, which had 588. Reported arrests began climbing in April, with 891, reaching a peak in December with 1,241. Reports of arrests to headquarters usually come about a month after the arrest, owing to court delays and other factors. Total fines followed the same pattern, almost, with the greatest amount, $51,858, levied in December. In number of days served in jail November led the months with 1,818. Lowest in this category was August with 55.

Club Honors Leo Ciucci As Director Of Month

If you can't reach Leo Ciucci at his home in San Rafael, chances are you'll find him at the Marin Rod and Gun Club. Look for him in the clubhouse, on the grounds, on the pier or at the boat ramp, and when you come across the busiest worker at any of those places —that's Leo.

LEO CIUCCI
A hard worker

In fact, you would have to look far and wide to discover a club project, large or small, that doesn't show some evidence of Leo Ciucci's able and willing hands. To call him one of the "work-horses" would be a masterpiece of understatement in view of the countless hours of unstinted effort which he has put forth in behalf of the organization.

Any attempt to list the many projects which have had the benefit of Leo's expert advice, supervision, mechanical skill and know-how would be a super project in itself. However, reference to just a few of the major ones should give the general picture—rehabilitation of the pier, grading and surfacing the grounds, construction of the picnic tables and booths, planning and building the pier keeper's new check-in shed, and, most recently, close supervision of the new boat ramp construction.

In his "spare time" Leo does a consistently fine job as club photographer, and the many outstanding pictures of the club's activities are a silent tribute to his skill with the camera. To those of you who have commented on the excellent public address system and movie projection at the membership meetings—here again you have Leo to thank.

His unceasing and tireless efforts have contributed greatly to the betterment of our organization, and in recognition of this fact the Marin Rod and Gun Club is happy to designate Leo Ciucci as Director of the Month.

Rain Spoils Steelheading; Few Are Taken

Steelhead fishing has practically been at a standstill this season.

First of the season it was lack of water—now the rain has spoiled the fishing.

However, an occasional steelhead has been taken.

It will take about a week to clear the streams and rivers, providing the rain abates for the present.

Steelhead fishing has been good at the Smith River, an 8-hour drive, but this could change over night.

The steelhead season closes on February 28.

Bills Pour Into Hopper At Capitol

Sportsmen's Help Sought On Behalf Of New Measures

Hundreds of fish and game bills will be presented at the present meeting of the state legislature.

Scores of bills have been put in the hopper and many more will be added before the deadline filing time.

One bill that will be present asks that striped bass fishing be opened to commercial fishermen in the San Francisco and San Pablo Bay area. This is one bill that the sportsmen must defeat.

Commercial interests ask that the commercial salmon season be extended another two weeks, just another foot in the door to increase the fishing period longer. This should be stopped.

Our old "friend" Gilcrist has informed the sportsmen that another abalone bill will be presented to open the Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino County coasts to commercial abalone fishing (District No. 10).

Sportsmen have been fighting abalone legislation for over 20 years. It must be stopped once and for all.

Plans are being made by the sportsmen to present a bill to prohibit the sale of abalone in order to counteract this "dog in the manger" attitude of the commercial seafood fishermen.

Our club has spent thousands of dollars defending the rights of sportsmen—and we will continue to do so.

From time to time the new bills will be discussed and presented in the press by our legislature committee.

Mr. Sportsman we need your help and you need ours.

Our legislators in Marin County, Senator Jack McCarthy and Assemblyman William Bagley represent us in the legislature at Sacramento.

Our legislative committee under the direction of Jack P. O'Connell are on the job and will need the help of every sportsman from time to time.

Ocean Trolling For Salmon Start Is Near

The ocean salmon trolling season will open this Saturday, Feb. 18.

Those who intend to troll for salmon on the opening day of the season but who are not lucky enough to own a boat, and do not have a friend who has a boat, should not delay in making a reservation on a partyboat.

The next step is to check over your equipment—be sure your line is strong and in good condition—if in doubt replace it with a new one.

Your reel should be checked —cleaned, greased and oiled.

All lures and hooks should be given the "eyeball."

Remember you're fishing for big fish when you go salmon fishing and all your gear should be in first class condition.

If you have any doubt contact your sports dealer and he will help you with the necessary details.

Good weather and calm water will start the season off to a fine beginning.

Let's go fishing.

Fishing For Striped Bass Very Good

Striped bass fishing has been exceptionally good the past two weeks in San Pablo Bay.

Trolling has been good at the white buoy, below the San Rafael Richmond bridge. Limits from 6 to 21 pounds have been taken. Fishing has been exceptionally good on the Hamilton Air Force Base flats and at Corregidor.

Last Sunday 18 stripers up to six pounds were caught from the Marin Rod and Gun Club pier on bait. More fish were taken yesterday.

Game Chief To Speak At Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will meet on Friday evening, February 17 at 8. The meeting will be held at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin.

President M. "Babe" Dahl is pleased to announce that William T. Shannon, director of the Department of Fish and Game will be the speaker of the evening. He will speak on the work of the department and the needs of the sportsmen. His talk will be of interest to every sportsman.

Plan to attend this meeting and bring your sportsmen friends. Robert Jones, district manager of the department will also accompany Mr. Shannon.

Refreshments will be served during the evening.

Let's go!

Ladies Meet Feb. 28 In Clubhouse

The next regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod & Gun Club will be Feb. 28, at the Clubhouse, Pt. San Quentin, 8:00 p.m.

Helen Schacht with co-chairman Barbara Hewett will be in charge of the Sportshow booth.

Helen Schacht, chairman of the Rifle team with the assistance of Art and Ellie Dawson are meeting two Saturdays per month at San Quentin rifle range. The members that would like to know more about shooting and the safe handling of fire arms contact Helen and get on the team.

Entertainment chairman Mrs. Henry Franke has promised us a varied program for this year.

Plans Take Shape For Sports Show

Eighth annual sports and boats show of the Marin Rod and Gun Club will be held on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 24, 25 and 26.

The Bermuda Palms Auditorium in San Rafael will again be the setting of this affair.

Barney de Bisschop and "Monty" Marzetta and their committee are planning to make this event outstanding with a large array of displays and demonstrations.

Remember—this show is free —there is no admission charge. Come and see the latest and the best free of charge.

Special events will include expert fly casting, skin diving demonstrations, archery and many other projects that will interest the outdoorsman.

Among the exhibits will be boats, motors, camping equipment, rods and reels.

One of the finest gun exhibits ever shown on the west coast will be on display from Harold's Club in Reno.

Taxidermy, skin diving equipment along with many fine exhibits including the Wocester display of antique relics.

Now is the time to plan ahead to attend the big sports show. Save the dates, March 24, 25 and 26. Come and bring your friends.

COUNCIL ELECTS

REA Unit Is Headed By Healdsburg Man

The first quarterly meeting of the Sportsmen's Council of the Redwood Empire was held January 22nd at Ukiah. The following officers and delegates were elected for 1961. Redding W. Peterson, Healdsburg, president; Jerry Hendricks, vice president; Mrs. Marie Julian, Healdsburg, secretary-treasurer. Delegates elected to attend the California Fish and Game Commission meetings and the California Wildlife meetings were Dr. Gail Adams, Larkspur; Ray Welsh, Fort Bragg, and Jack Mitchel, Potter Valley.

Ray Welsh was also elected to the Legislative Committee of the California Wildlife Federation which consists of representatives from nine State Sportsmens' Councils. The duty of this committee is to instruct George Difani, C.W.F. legislative advocate, regarding Fish and Game bills being introduced at the present session. Three hundred dollars ($300.00) was donated the C.W.F. legislative fund by S.C.R.E.

1961 hunting regulation changes were recommended as follows. Open early deer season, Aug. 5, close Sept. 17. Open late season Sept. 23, close Oct. 29. Quail; open season Nov. 15, close Jan. 1. Bear, open season, Oct. 1 close Dec. 31. It was recommended that there be no change in pheasant season or the pheasant baglimit. These recommendations were forwarded to the Fish and Game Commission.

Other Action: Recommended to President John F. Kennedy, that he appoint Robert Paul as Commissioner of U.S. Fish and Wildlife. Mr. Paul is at present connected with the Sports Fishing Institute, Washington, D.C. and formerly was in charge of water projects and pollution for the State Department of Fish and Game.

Approved purchase of 200 display cards to be given to all business organizations becoming sustaining members of the S.C.R.E. for 1961.

Next meeting will be held April 9, 1961 at El Rancho Motel, located one and a half miles (1½) miles south of Santa Rosa. A large delegation from Marin will attend.

CORNELL CAPA

These gloved hands are placing sensitized film on a radioactive piston. This produces a "radio autograph," from which Shell can study the effect of deposits on top performance.

BULLETIN:

Super Shell with 9 ingredients now contains 1 quick-start component; 1 fast warm-up ingredient; 1 mileage booster; 1 anti-knock mix; 2 octane boosters; 1 gum preventive; 1 anti-icer and new improved TCP—to give your car top performance

Read the facts about the remarkable formula of today's Super Shell. You'll learn why every one of these nine ingredients is essential if you want top performance from today's "critical" engines.

ENGINES ARE much more finicky than they were even a decade ago. That's why your car needs every one of the nine ingredients in today's Super Shell.

Test drivers, noted for conservative statements, go so far as to call many recent engines "critical." In fact, many will tell you that you probably do not know how good your car's engine really is, simply because it may be running well below peak efficiency. Today's Super Shell gasoline is designed to help correct this state of affairs.

Read on if you want to learn exactly how each of the nine ingredients in Super Shell helps every car deliver its best. Shell's own test drivers call it top performance.

1. The quick-start component in Super Shell is so volatile it's kept underground.

The Butane in today's Super Shell is like the priming charge in a shotgun shell. Its quick-firing volatility is what gets you started fast on cold days. Quick-start Butane, in fact, vaporizes so easily that it is kept under pressure—22 million gallons of it—in a specially dug cavern, 40 stories underground!

Because of Butane, your engine can start in seconds. You save your battery. You don't waste gasoline by pumping, pumping, pumping raw fuel through your engine before it finally catches.

Shell's Butane Storage Cavern at Wood River, Illinois. Some 230,000 tons of rock were removed through a pipe only 42 inches wide. This tiny entrance posed quite a problem when getting a bulldozer down. Shell's solution? Cut the bulldozer up and weld it together again down below.

2. The fast warm-up ingredient in Super Shell acts like kindling for a fire.

The fast warm-up you get with Super Shell comes from its Pentane mix. Pentanes are "kindling" molecules—split from heavier hydrocarbons. They release their energy quickly, giving you top cold-weather performance in a hurry.

3. The mileage booster in Super Shell owes its energy to carloads of platinum catalyst.

Shell uses eight million dollars' worth of platinum catalyst to produce Platformate, the extra-energy, extra-mileage ingredient in today's Super Shell. But fortunately for you and for us, this precious stuff can be used over and over again.

The platinum catalyst, which gives the Platformate its odd name, helps to re-form petroleum into super-energy components—such as benzene, xylene and toluene.

These three alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the best 100-octane aviation gasoline.

But make no mistake. This is not untamed energy. Far from it. The super-energy of Platformate is harnessed by the eight other ingredients in Super Shell, where it behaves so well you scarcely know it's there. That is until you note your extra mileage. After that, there is no doubt.

4. The anti-knock mix in Super Shell is so effective that one teaspoonful is enough to treat a gallon.

The human ear is nowhere near sensitive enough when you're trying to detect the slightest trace of knock. Shell scientists depend instead on an astonishing set of instruments that registers the faintest knocks on a delicate picture tube, and then photographs it with a high-speed camera.

The result—information which has enabled Shell scientists to prescribe an anti-knock mix so effective that one teaspoonful per gallon of gasoline is enough to raise the octane rating by five full points.

5. & 6. Both octane boosters in today's Super Shell have a story. One is linked with Jimmy Doolittle. The other comes from heating petroleum to 900 degrees.

Jimmy Doolittle helped pioneer the first of these high-octane ingredients for Shell aviation fuel. It is called Alkylate.

Alkylate—which took the dream of 100-octane gasoline out of the lab and put it into the sky—is now in Super Shell. It controls knocking in hot engines at high speeds far better than anything else yet available.

NOTE: Speaking of knock-control at high speeds, remember that car engines often turn faster than the engines of a DC-7.

The second octane-boosting ingredient is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power with a purr. This is petroleum that has actually been cracked under 900-degree heat and catalytic action. Its heavier molecules have been shattered into livelier, lighter ones.

The result is a super-octane ingredient that asserts its authority the moment you put your foot down.

NOTE: "Cat-cracking" refers to the use of a catalyst—the mysterious substance that can alter molecules without changing itself at all.

7. The anti-gum ingredient in Super Shell uses a chemical "policeman" to guard against gum-fouled carburetors.

Even the purest gasoline can form gum when stored. This gum clogs carburetors and fouls automatic chokes. But, with Super Shell, you needn't worry, since a special gum preventive does the trick.

It acts like a policeman controlling a mob. Regulates unstable elements to help keep them from clotting. Hence no gum problem.

8. The anti-icer in Super Shell takes care of the most mysterious stalls of all.

Super Shell's formula is adjusted as often as eight times a year to beat the weather. For example, whenever the temperature is likely to drop below forty-five degrees, an anti-icer is added.

Why add anti-icer at forty-five degrees? Because, even then, frost can form in your carburetor just as it does in your refrigerator. It can choke your engine dead. And you might never suspect what did it.

Super Shell's anti-icer tackles the problem by discouraging ice from sticking to metal parts. Result: you can forget about any carburetor icing problems.

9. TCP in Super Shell increases power, mileage and plug life.

In 1953, Shell first introduced TCP*—a revolutionary additive that neutralized certain harmful effects of combustion deposits. Today, Shell has developed a new improved TCP, called cresyl-diphenyl-phosphate.

TCP can give your car as much as 15 per cent more power and up to 17 extra miles per tankful. It can also make spark plugs last up to twice as long.

Ponder these statistics. They can have a refreshing effect on your car bills.

Test Super Shell for yourself

Try today's Super Shell next time you fill up. You'll soon feel and hear a difference in the way your engine runs.

That difference is top performance.

Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Sponsor Play At Festival Theater Feb. 17

Each year the Pi Beta Phi alumnae of Marin County sponsor a Marin County theatrical production for a fourfold purpose, to promote the play, purpose, to promote the playplayers have chosen, to aid the Pi Phi's local philanthropies, and to provide outstanding entertainment for their friends, husbands and escorts. Luckily, this year's performance is Friday evening, Feb. 17 at 8:30 o'clock on the Seminary campus—place, the Festival Theatre.

For 1961 the Pi Phis have chosen what they consider to be an outstanding presentation by an outstanding company and cast.

The play is Thornton Wilder's, "The Skin of Our Teeth," presented at the Festival Theatre in San Anselmo on the campus of the San Francisco Theological Seminary. (This is the old Seminary gymnasium located on Kensington Road, off Bolinas Avenue, at the base of Seminary Hill.) On the flat land there is ample parking near the Seminary dorms and faculty residences.

Many dinner parties and other entertainment will precede and follow the presentation. The Pi Phi publicity chairman chose to feature for press photography release attractive Carol Brumm, who not only is the mouthpiece of the unusual Wilder play, but also has designed the costumes.

Carol is a beautiful blonde girl with a most attractive figure and appears in the play first as a maid, later as a beauty queen and finally in war service as a camp follower, and again a maid.

Carol enacts the role of Miss Somerset playing Lily Sabina Fairweather.

"Miss Somerset is an actress of the old school who has taken a part in this play featuring authentic members of the human race, (a play she doesn't understand at all!), only out of financial desperation. She is a lot like Lily Sabina Fairweather whom she portrays in the play."

"Miss Fairweather, Sabina, to her friends, hails originally from the Sabine Hills. Attracted by her pretty face, George Antrobus, played by Louis Bennett, as inventor of the alphabet, brought her home as his new wife. She didn't last long in that capacity and became the maid of Mr. and Mrs. Antrobus—the latter Elizabeth Berryhill—resident dramatics instructor at the Seminary.

By nature Sabina is both flighty and pessimistic, but when she becomes beauty queen, and her desire for pleasure is satisfied, she wants to live forever. Always at her best in the company of men, Sabina really steals the show.

Robert Cowell will win praise for his role as young Henry Antrobus. Marjorie Casebier ably portrays Henry's sister.

Theodore Gill Jr., son of the seminary president, plays The Dinosaur and Steven Adams, The Mammoth.

Dean Gurdon Oxtoby and Robert Rawlings alternately play Homer, the blind refugee, the Greek poet.

Prof. David Esler, president Gill and Charles Carroll, alternating, play Judge Moses, the great Hebrew statesman, lawgiver and leader who led his people out of bondage.

Other roles are played by Jon Sinclair, both as a telegraph boy and a conveener; Jack Pruyn and Walter Ems, as refugees and conveeners; Frances Tuttle, a refugee, Miss E. Muse and a Boardwalk vacationer; Holly Bartges, Miss T. Muse and a convention hostess; Howard Taylor, the head usher and the chair pusher.

Besides there are Peggy Vinson, John Wedge, Helen Simril, Sheila Simril, Edward Powell, Lorraine Gasken, Dottie Hamilton, Karl Deirup and James Atkinson in the convention scenes. Howard Swartz is heard as the announcer.

These plus a large staff of technicians have participated in "The Skin of Our Teeth."

Electricians: Bill Livingston and Ann Bradshaw; sound: John Tomaschke and Jack Sweeny.

Understudy to animals: Greg Duncan. Make-up: Irene Pritzker and Richard Meder.

The play is in three acts with an intermission between Acts I and II when the Marin Pi Phis have arranged for courtesy cups of steaming coffee.

Also the Pi Phis will have on display in the foyer the popular and heirloom handicraft made at their Settlement School in the Great Smoky Mountains in Gatlinburg, Tennessee.

Contrary to Paul Miller, a news correspondent, who excellently reviewed Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth" for the I-J, Feb. 11, that play did not end its run Feb. 10. The Pi Phi sponsorship and the Festival Theatre managers have extended the bookings. The play will be presented this Friday evening, Feb. 17, at 8:30 p.m., as a benefit performance.

Valentine Dinner, Projects Fill Girl Scout Calendar

Traditional Valentine hearts and service to others have filled the February meetings of Marin's Girl Scout troops.

Saturday evening, fifty Brownie Scouts from Troops 273, 264 and 266 invited their fathers to a Valentine dinner. The girls, students at Santa Marguerita, Hoffman and Blessed Sacrament Schools, made the table decorations, place mats, name tags and invitations, as well as the "box dinners", using a Valentine theme. A program of singing and folk dancing, followed by the movie, "Follow Me, Girls", provided the evenings entertainment. Leaders of the three troops are Mesdames Paul Brinkman, Barrett Hughes and Richard Flaherty.

By doing errands and chores for their parents and neighbors, the members of third grade Brownie Troop 38 earned almost five dollars, which they donated to the new March of Dimes. Leaders of the Bel Aire School troop are Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. Kenneth Hagberg.

February 17 and 18 will find the members of the sixth grade Intermediate Scout Troop 183 hard at work at the "International Intrigue" Bazaar at Redwood High School. The seventeen Greenbrae Scouts will staff the Grab Bag booth at the two-day affair. During the past month, the girls have packaged the gifts with their leaders, Mrs. W. H. Ecker, Jr., and Mrs. Ward Wisecarver.

A Hawaiian luau will entertain husbands and guests of the Zonta Club of Marin County at the Larkspur home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Eubanks on Thursday, at 7 p.m. Hawaiian music and entertainment will conclude the evening.

At the recent evening meeting at the home of the Misses Mary Fiedler and Katherine Tasker in San Rafael. Mrs. Margaret Hedden, president, presided at the business meeting. Elected to the nominating committee were Misses Dorothy Erthle and Fiedler and Mrs. Americo Oberto, who will report at the March evening meeting.

It was decided to hold a joint meeting with the Santa Rosa club, and also invite the Reno club, which was organized by Mrs. Ethel Cobb Souza, a member and past president of the local club, to attend one of the Marin club's evening meetings.

A report of the recent District IX conference at the Riviera Hotel in Palm Springs was given by Mesdames Hedden and Cobb-Souza and Miss Virginia Shattuck, who represented the Marin Club. Mrs. Cobb-Souza was chairman of the Resolutions committee. The theme of the conference was "Towards the Light"—the hostess club—the Zonta Club of Riverside.

Applications for Zonta Club of Marin scholarships to girls desiring to further their education, may be sent to Mrs. Kitty Oppenheimer, service chairman, Ross, before March 31. Two of these scholarships are given each year by the club. Application blanks may be obtained from the dean of women at Drake, San Rafael and Tamalpais High schools; at Redwood from Mrs. Frank Wulzen, assistant principal; at Novato from Robert J. McKeay, principal; at Tomales from Miss Gwendolyn Gibson, girls' counselor, and at College of Marin from Irwin P. Diamond, dean of students.

Fairhills Branch Heralds Spring At Luncheon-Fashion Benefit

To herald Spring and the fresh-faced fashions of the season, Bob's of Marin welcomed the Fairhills Branch of the Needlework Guild of America at the recent "Informally Yours" luncheon-fashion benefit which was themed to "Spring's Sartorial Splendor" —a colorful and delightfully presented show by Sara Campbell with styles from a San Rafael shop.

A receptive audience, resplendent in gay spring bonnets was certainly fashion minded as the ladies raptly gazed upon a variety of styles for spring, summer, travel, or county wear modeled by members of the Fairhills Guild and Mannequin League of Marin.

To open the fashion parade, in her first costume, Mrs. Norman Sanguinetti, as she stepped from the viewing platform to stroll among the members and guests of the Needlework Guild, carried a basket of bright yellow daffodils, harbinger of Spring. Later she gracefully, perfectly modeled a turquoise silk cocktail dress with an over-skirt tunic effect and a unique hem-line of layer upon layer, all in a color.

Mrs. Jack Wilsey, president of the Fairhills Branch, chairman of the affair, and model in the show, was despite her arduous duties of the day, lovely wearing a white two-piece Sebastian designed knit, detailed jacket in multi-colored knit stripes.

Striking in shocking pink was Mrs. Gene Hiller showing a shirtmaker dress with matching sweater of white and pink.

Pastel softness of the budding season of spring was in the pure silk frock worn by attractive Mrs. Eugene Kern of the Fairhills Branch of Needlework Guild.

Beautiful foot-work, beautiful costume—Mrs. George Coburn modeling a beige silk sheath with jeweled neckline and a matching plaid wool coat in muted tone on tone shades of beige.

Sartorially splendid was Mrs. William Donohoe who chose the sleeveless bare look in Irish linen. The sheath the color of Bermuda orange with detail in the shirred insert of bodice, shirred shoulder straps and corded belt of same fabric.

Enchanting to the eye of the beholder, was the black polished cotton frock and Mrs. Boyd Lang who next modeled the very feminine gown with a V insert of white lace at the top of the fitted bodice, a full belled skirt and one black bow at the waistline.

Wednesday, March 1 at 12:30 o'clock is the day, date, and time for Bob's of Marin to welcome the Republican Women of Marin for fashions "Informally Yours" with luncheon.

Reservations for the March 1 luncheon and style show, to which the public is invited, may be made with Bob's of Marin.

Fairfax Central P-TA Has Varied Program, Ceremony

At the recent February meeting of the Fairfax Central P-TA, guests enjoyed a varied program. Mrs. John Cartamo presided over an impressive candlelight ceremony.

Participating were Mrs. Jack Uhte representing the church; Mrs. Ruth Schiller representing the home; Homer Sisk, the school; Mayor Kenneth Edgar, the community. Mrs. Cartamo was the reader for the ceremony which she composed and was the recipient of the first P-TA Honorary Life Membership awarded at Central School 26 years ago. Mrs. Schiller was the first president of Central P-TA.

Several students of Tom Kelly's eighth grade told of the history of the National Congress of Parent-Teachers, the Central P-TA and the important part the organization plays at the local level. Frank Curtin's eighth grade class presented to Mr. Bruce McDonald, principal, an attractive, framed picture of the "old Fairfax School."

A P-TA Honorary Life Membership was awarded to Mrs. Cyrus Burns, in recognition of her outstanding and faithful service to school and community. She has given generously of her time to school activities other than P-TA for several years and is active in community affairs. Mrs. Burns is serving her second term as president of Fairfax Central P-TA.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 14, the 45th day of the year with 320 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1859, Oregon became the 33rd state in the union.

In 1886, the West Coast citrus industry was born, as the first trainload of oranges left Los Angeles for eastern markets.

In 1894, Benny Kubelsky, later to become famous as American comedian Jack Benny, was born in Waukegan, Ill.

In 1912, Arizona became the 48th state to be admitted to the union.

In 1929, in Chicago, seven members of the Bugs Moran gang, rivals of the Al Capone "outfit" for control of the rich prohibition-era alcohol and beer trade, were murdered in their garage headquarters by five gangsters in what became known as the city's St. Valentine's Day Massacre.

A thought for today: Author William Thackeray said: "Comfortable career of prosperity, if it does not make people honest, at least keeps them so."

Solons Can Prevent Waldo Grade From Being Toll Road

The other day Assemblyman Thomas A. Rees of Los Angeles put a bill into the legislative hopper in Sacramento which would alter the status of a $5,000,000 loan the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District owes to the State of California.

The bridge district about 15 years ago borrowed the five million dollars from the state and immediately turned the sum over to the Division of Highways to widen the Waldo Grade from a four-lane death trap to a six-lane divided freeway.

Reason for the loan was that the division said it did not have enough money available to do the job for a number of years. So the bridge district borrowed the money from the state general fund with a promise to pay it back after all the bridge bonds are paid off in 1971.

The action sought by Assemblyman Rees is merely one of bookkeeping. He was requested by the State Department of Finance to change the load around. Under the plan, the gas tax fund, from which highways are constructed, would pay the state's general fund the $5,000,000, and then the bridge district would owe the gas tax fund instead of the general fund.

What the whole episode points out, however, is that the gas tax fund now has enough money to pay the five million dollars used to build that highway.

We sincerely doubt that the legislature, in permitting the loan, actually intended to make Waldo Grade a toll road. In fact, the legislature has been insistant that there be NO toll roads in California.

Yet if the state insists on requiring repayment of the loan, they will in fact be making the Golden Gate Bridge users pay for a $5,000,000 toll road up Waldo Grade.

The bridge users have been paying 1½ per cent interest on the money now for many years. They have benefitted because the grade was widened and improved.

But that would have come anyway. The highway division would have eventually done that work; the loan merely speeded it up.

Now that the gas tax fund has enough money to pay the general fund the five million, it also would have had enough to do the construction.

It seems only fair, therefore, that the loan to the bridge district be cancelled, so that the legislature can continue its record of having no toll roads in California.

No Joy In China Tonight

Tonight is Chinese New Year's Eve and Marin's Chinese will celebrate in the traditional manner, though somewhat modified by Americanization.

In San Francisco, Hong Kong, Taipei and Singapore the festivities will be merry and the tables will be filled with food in the traditional Chinese holiday mood.

But over these celebrations will be the gloomy thought of their fellow countrymen under Red rule, who are having their worst year hunger-wise since the end of the war. Starvation stalks the land and it seems sure to get worse as last fall's crop is consumed.

There is little joy in the communes tonight.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

TWO CAREERS IN ONE LIFE

Two careers in one lifetime will no longer be unusual in the future, according to one expert.

The first will be the "primary and active" vocation which will occupy most of a person's life.

After retirement, however, comes the "service" vocation, to which men and women will give their experience, judgment and maturity.

"Embarking on a second career," the expert concluded, "following retirement, will avoid waste of talent and manpower."

With many people living longer lives, it has grown increasingly important for them to find constructive occupations for as long as possible. At the same time the wants of God's hungry, under-educated and neglected children are so many that no one need ever retire for lack of work to do.

Whether you are working on your first career or your second, always keep the ideal of service to God and your fellow man uppermost in your intentions.

"The Lord will reward him according to his works." (2 Timothy 4:16)

Strengthen me, O Holy Ghost, to see the work that needs to be done for others, do it and look for more.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Ladies, Let's Be Kind To Men Now That It's Valentine's Day

NEW YORK (AP)—Ladies, for years you have sandbagged your boy friends on St. Valentine's day. You have compelled them to bankrupt their ingenuity—to say nothing of their pocketbooks — thinking up new things to give you to please you on this day sacred to lovers.

You have made a feminine racket of the valentine. Why not — just for one day—reverse your field? Why not make it a masculine racket?

In all fairness, you ought to. For years you have campaigned shrilly for equal rights with men.

Why not give men a break and let them have equal rights on Valentine's Day? Why not spend a little of that green stuff making some man happy for 24 hours?

I don't mean just to drop off at the dime store and buy him a small nickel card with a big, red heart on it.

You've always expected your boy friend to give you something expensive. This year, why not surprise that big lug in your life by doing something big for him?

Since you rarely spend much time worrying about how to make your beau happy on Valentine's Day, you may need a few suggestions on how to do it.

Here are a few tips:

If he's the dashing type, you might skip down to the bank and draw out enough dough to make the downpayment on that new sports car he's been yearning for.

HE'LL THINK you're real dreamy if you gift him him with a pair of diamond-studded gold cufflinks. Later, if necessary, you can get him to hock them to take you on your honeymoon.

Or, take him to a sporting goods firm and let him pick out a new fishing rod and bowling ball.

IF YOUR BOY FRIEND is the homebody type, trudge over to his apartment with a big steak and all the fixings and cook him a fine dinner. You might also take over a bottle of gin or champagne.

If you can't think of anything else suitable, you can always hand him a new billfold full of folding money. Money is always appropriate. Men never have too much of it.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Fairhills Is Unfair Hills

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We moved here last summer from the East and are now looking for some land so we can build a house on it. In the course of hunting for a site which would do justice to the natural beauty of Marin, we came upon two sites in Fairhills. We were quite taken with them and asked the agent handling them to give us what specifications he had so we could study them at home.

To our distress, we found we had stumbled on an uglier side of marvelous Marin. I quote from the specifications:

" . . . it is the desire and intention of said Marin Title Guaranty Company to sell said property and to impose thereon salutary restrictions pursuant to a general plan or scheme of improvement for the benefit of said tract and the present and future owners thereof"; (and there follow restrictions as to buildings, fences, pets, etc., and then) "7. No person or persons not of the White Caucasian race shall use or occupy any premises or building thereon except as domestic servants."

Now I maintain that far from being to my benefit, such a ruling would restrict ME to being able to entertain only my "white Caucasian" friends. Fortunately, I have had the opportunity to come to know non-whites as friends, and could not consider giving them up for a view of Mt. Tamalpais.

Also, I would feel uncomfortable with neighbors for whom a special skin color is a prerequisite for friendship.

We are still looking about for land. We have decided to call the above community Unfair Hills or Caucasian Hills for our amusement.

But more seriously, this sort of document is an anachronism in 1961. Possibly having public attention called to this might persuade the Marin Title Guaranty Company to remove these restrictive covenants.

Trying To Keep Waterfront Open

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Here in Belvedere we are again haggling over dollars to keep the waterfront open. The owners plan two-story apartment houses on the area in question.

Although this would seem a problem peculiar to Belvedere, it is not. This question of open waterfront affects all Marin County, and if we are unwilling to face it now, our children will be forced to face it later.

Right now your taxes and mine are paying for the program of the State Department of Beaches and Parks, which is buying back miles of privately built-on waterfront in Southern California at the cost of $100 per front inch. The increasing pressure of population there requires this expense.

Foresight in the time of my parents and yours would have permitted the reserving of this waterfront for a few thousand dollars. When your children and mine occupy our position, more people will live in Marin County than presently occupy San Francisco. Seven hundred and fifty thousand people. By then the open fields and meadows and hillsides will be built on. Will we have preserved the waterfront potential or not?

East and central Marin is a hot climate county. Unlike San Francisco where climate permits waterfront enjoyment only a few days a year, Marin County temperatures will demand waterfront utilization 10 months of the year. Will these 750,000 people find themselves walled off from the waterfront by a row of apartment houses, restaurants and private subdivisions?

You and I hold the answer to this question. Sooner or later we must realize that waterfront is a resource to be husbanded for the greatest use of all, not a commodity to be handed on from buyer to buyer, each outbidding his predecessor in an effort to inflate the price.

Although Marin County is now and still only an open countryside dotted with less than a dozen villages, in a few short years we shall be a mighty city solidly built up from the Golden Gate to Santa Rosa. What city of 750,000 population on this earth has not reserved its waterfront for all to enjoy? Consider Rio de Janeiro, Oslo, Paris, Venice, Monte Carlo, and dozens of others. Is our foresight less than the foresight of those who preserved the potentialities of these magnificent waterfronts?

We in Belvedere neither desire nor intend to create another Coney Island. However, this opportunity for keeping waterfront open space is only a tiny fraction of the problem that confronts the rest of the county and will confront it with increasing force with each year.

The entire east shore of Marin County from Tiburon to Fairfield is fated to be developed in such a fashion that would deny waterfront access to the inhabitants of the remainder of the county unless we act to keep it open.

Will our children 20 years hence look back and say, "Our parents did not make an honest effort to help us with this problem."

Fine Cartoon On Civil Liberties

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

You are to be highly commended for featuring Don Hesse's excellent political cartoon "Don't Infringe On His Civil Liberties" as it portrays very clearly just what the Communists are doing in America under the guise of civil liberties.

The Communists are being aided unwittingly by the so-called liberals of our country who are either unable or do not care to distinguish between license and civil liberty.

Please continue the good work.

20 YEARS AGO

During 1940 Marin County had 164 automobile accidents on roads patrolled by the California Highway Patrol, of which 13 were fatal, according to figures released by Sgt. Vernon Dwelly of the patrol. Incorporated cities had four fatalities.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

John Straley tells of a recruit on guard duty who had orders to admit no car to the post unless it carried a special license tag. In the shank of the evening a four-star general came along with no tag at all on his car. Hearing the brass hat order his chaffeur to zoom right through the gate, the recruit cocked his rifle. "I'm kinda new at this Bub," he told the general. "Do I shoot you, or the driver?"

Two ladies eating creamed-something-or-other together were bludgeoning an absent mutual friend. "Her new husband was a judge, wasn't he?" asked one. "Everybody thought so," sniffed the other, "until he married HER!"

An 8-year-old girl pupil received a big heart-shaped box of caramels from her ardent swain for St. Valentine's Day. Enclosed was a card reading, "For Mary—with all my allowance."

Hamilton Base Is Doomed If Housing Is Allowed Around It

Hamilton Air Force Base was born in the early 1930s in what was a relatively isolated area.

Today civilization is moving in. It may mean the death of the base which for the last fiscal year poured more than $2 million into Bay Area business, a large part into Marin County. Connected with the base are military personnel, non-military and their dependents numbering more than 19,000 people.

The prophesies of doom come from base officers and base commander Col. Harvey E. Henderson because of proposed development of a 212-acre lagoon-type housing area just north of the base.

THIS AREA should be kept clear, in the view of base officers. Other areas around Hamilton could be developed without serious detriment, as traffic patterns keep them over San Pablo Bay as much as possible.

A minor number of planes circle in low landing patterns over what is now residential area, base officers say. But regular takeoffs and landings now go directly over the relatively uninhabited area which is proposed for development.

"We're not trying to fight this—we're part of the community, too," Henderson says. "We're trying to let people know the long range effect."

THE LONG RANGE effect would be a continuous, bothersome screaming of jet engines directly over the Bel Marin Keys homes, Henderson says. The area is directly under the path of F101 two-engine fighters taking off and landing — 30 to 40 landings during daylight hours by the 101s, plus T-33 jet trainers and propeller-driven planes.

The sound probably would not do any physical harm to residents, nor actually damage housing. But the cut-in of the booming jet afterburners on take-off would make conversation impossible at times, bother sleeping residents and rattle windows.

It would have a deafening effect only over a long period of time of perhaps five to 20 years, Henderson.

HAMILTON FOR the past three years has put in requests for lengthening the present 8,000-foot runway to what is considered the standard, 9,000 feet, to handle the bigger and perhaps noisier planes of the future.

Buildup of housing in the flight pattern of other Air Force bases has caused their removal to more remote locations. Mitchell Air Force Base in Long Island is one example.

The Marin Keys development comes before the Marin County planning commission soon for further consideration after Hamilton officers dropped a bombshell at the last hearing. They reported the noise factor and crash possibilities of developing the area.

HAMILTON probably is responsible for its own predicament.

The county set up restrictions on residential density and building heights for prescribed areas around the base. The large area including the proposed development is not adequately covered. It once was considered unsuitable for development.

If the blast of jet engines is bothersome, the possibility of crash is there. Hamilton might have angled for strictly agricultural zoning for the large acreage northeast of the base. This would have precluded construction.

Jets came to Hamilton in the middle of the 1940s. Yet county planners cannot remember requests or warnings ever having been made.

The dilemma remains.

"The planning commission —if they want to let this area build up—can kiss the base goodbye," Henderson says. "Public opinion (protests against noise, possible crashes) would kill it."

President Getting Better Facts Now On Some Campaign Issues

WASHINGTON—I wonder if President Kennedy, now that he is at the center of government intelligence, isn't finding some of his principal campaign arguments failing to be borne out by the facts.

I am not referring to the high level of unemployment or the slow pace of economic growth, where it now appears Kennedy may well have understated his case. I am referring to the more imponderable but sharply drawn campaign arguments:

1—THE STATUS of U. S. prestige, especially whether it is at an "all-time low."

2—The meaning of the increasingly close votes by which the United States position has been supported in the General Assembly.

3—The actual balance of military power between the U. S. and the Soviet Union.

U. S. PRESTIGE — The President has now released the U.S.I.A. prestige polls. The majority of people in most countries seems to think that the Soviet Union has surpassed the U. S. in science and technology on the ground that the Soviets are pre-eminent in space exploration.

But is this impression of Soviet leadership in outer space based on fact or misinformation? The Kennedy task force report on space informs the President that "we now hold a position of leadership in space science" and that for three years "the United States has been the outstanding contributor to space science."

Thus the truth of the matter was that while most foreigners THOUGHT the Soviets were pre-eminent in space science, this impression was not true.

U. N. VOTES—Many times during the campaign Kennedy cited the narrowing U. S. majorities at the U. N., particularly on Red China, as evidence of our declining prestige. But now the new U. N. Ambassador, Adlai Stevenson, is informing the President and the American people that we must prepare ourselves for possible defeat on admitting Red China.

Well, if the votes by which the U. S. was narrowly supported last year and the year before were germane to choosing between Nixon and Kennedy, then the predicted votes by which the U. S. will lose on Red China must be even more pertinent in the future. I doubt if Stevenson means that. He means that votes in the recent past and the predictable future reflect the new composition of the U. N. General Assembly and are not matters over which a President has much control.

MILITARY STRENGTH — Another of the campaign contentions was that the balance of military power was shifting to the Soviet side and that this fact hurt our position around the world. Now Kennedy is hearing something of a different story.

He is hearing from some of his disarmament experts that one of the reasons for Soviet reluctance to accept full inspection is that such inspection will disclose them weaker than they have been proclaiming.

He is hearing from some of his Pentagon experts, according to news reports which the White House has called inaccurate but which have not been proved inaccurate, that the U. S.-Soviet "missile gap" doesn't exist or was exaggerated.

I am not suggesting that, even if all these facts and judgments had been presented in September and October, this would have changed the result. But the facts which are now becoming visible, tend to put the "campaign debate" in better perspective.

These Very Special Teachers Are Deserving Of Valentines

I'm sending valentines today, to some very special teachers. Do you know them?

Our kindergarten and first grade teachers: They are the ones who civilize our young savages. They are tolerant, understanding, devoted. They love even the toughest little boys. They're wonderful.

Our remedial reading teachers: They struggle with the children who fail. They check each child carefully, discover the best ways for him to learn, and then arrange his studies so he can achieve success.

Our teachers of classes for the mentally retarded: They are patient, kindly, careful. They're willing to make progress slowly, for they know that love and encouragement will change frustrated, retarded children into happy hard working youngsters.

Our teachers of the physically handicapped: They teach the blind, and nearly blind, the cerebral palsied, the deaf, the paralyzed children with muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, and other dreadful afflictions. Their patience knows no bounds. They gladly spend extra years learning their specialized jobs.

Our teachers of the highly gifted: They teach children who have special problems too. Their pupils may learn like lightening, or defy all efforts to teach them. They may be very critical, noncooperative, petulant. Or, they may be so anxious to study that they overwhelm their instructors.

These special teachers go far beyond the call of duty. They give extra service to children with extra needs. They live for the boys and girls in their classes.

Send a great big Valentine remembrance to each one today!

Mill Valley Must Explain Harbor Lag

The California Small Craft Harbor Commission has directed the City of Mill Valley to explain why construction has not begun on its municipal yacht harbor which was approved by the commission a year ago.

Commissioners approved a 20-year $300,000 loan for Mill Valley on Feb. 16, 1960 against opposition from the California Inland Harbors and Fishing Resorts Assn. of Antioch and the Small Crafts Harbors Assn. of Marin.

The Commission will meet at 10 a.m. next Monday in the state capitol in Sacramento.

A. E. Almcrants, city manager of Mill Valley, said yesterday the city has acquired all but 96/100 of one acre of the 25 acres needed for the yacht harbor, to be located in the northern reaches of Richardson Bay between Enchanted Knolls and Sycamore Avenue.

"We have spent $100,000 on plans and land acquisition," Almcrants explained. "But the state won't give us the loan until all the land is ours."

"The final drawings (which cost about $20,000) were finished a couple of months ago," he added.

Almcrants said the remaining property is owned by the firm of Harder and Odenthal of Berkeley.

"How long it takes to buy the land depends on whether we can reach an agreeable price or have to go to condemnation proceedings," Almcrants said.

A simultaneous conference will be for Southern Baptist chaplains to be led by Brig. Gen. Robert P. Taylor, deputy of Air Force chaplains at Washington, D.C.

A three-day conference on church music will begin Feb. 16 for Bay Area choirs and music directors. Heading the faculty are Dr. W. Hines Sims of Nashville, Tenn., Ruth Ninninger of Little Rock, Ark., and Earl Rogers of Fresno.

Climaxing the series will be the first seminary student missions conference for high school seniors and college age people in the western states, March 3-5. "My Life in World Dimension" is the theme for the student conference.

Nixon, Kennedy To Get Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will receive the 1961 gold medal award "for outstanding achievement in broadcasting," the radio and television executives society has announced.

Society President Richard S. Salant, head of CBS news, said: "clearly the most significant contribution of broadcasting to the best interests of this country and her citizens in 1960 was the series of radio and television programs devoted to the presidential campaign, particularly the face-to-face appearance of President Kennedy and Mr. Nixon."

Presentation of the awards was scheduled for a dinner on March 9.

Car Door Flies Open, Woman Falls From Car

A car door which flew open caused a woman driver to strike an embankment and be thrown from her vehicle, with minor injury, Saturday night.

Marie Jo Ann Cerles, 35, of 541 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, east bound on Marin Drive west of Marin Avenue in Tamalpais Valley at 7:35 p.m., leaned over to grab at the left door when it opened. The car curved right and rammed the bank. She was treated for a cut ankle at Marin and San Rafael General Hospitals.

The Most Up-To-Date Method
Of Buying And Selling Real Estate

MULTIPLE LISTING

- IT GETS FASTER RESULTS!
- IT COSTS NO MORE!

Thousands of homes have been sold by Marin REALTORS through the efficiency of the Marin County Multiple Listing Service.

This modern cooperative system has conclusively proved to property owners its value as a sales asset.

Unlike the "old days" you do not have to shop around from office to office to list your house. Today you sign one agreement with one MARIN REALTOR, and your listing — with photograph and giving complete details—is broadcast from the Real Estate Board office to its entire membership. Automatically the property you wish to sell is called to the attention of a Sales Force of more than over 400 realty experts. Any Marin REALTOR will multiple list your home. Whether he or a fellow REALTOR sells it, only one commission is paid.

Phone Your Nearest Marin REALTOR, ask him to put your home on Multiple Listing.

THEIR WORLD'S GROWN SMALLER—Vickey Geneteau of Panama and Roger Smeetz of Belgium, exchange students at San Rafael High School, note on globe their routes of travel to San Rafael. Story of American Field Service, which brought them here, is to be shown in a movie at San Rafael high on Thursday night.

Incorporation Of Tiburon Due Discussion

Pros and cons of incorporation for Tiburon will be discussed by Marin County Planning Director Mary Summers at a public meeting sponsored by the Tiburon Property Owners Assn. on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Reed School auditorium.

William H. von Lackum, association president, said the board of directors of the association has urged a "professional study" to determine if incorporation is feasible. He announced that the board had authorized spending of $175 of their treasury and that members had contributed an additional $125 toward financing the study.

Subjects covered at the meeting will include new construction on the peninsula, regulation of multiple dwellings and density, business areas, rapid transit and bridge terminals, von Lackum said.

Election of association officers for 1961 will also be held at the meeting. Nominations from the floor are urged, von Lackum said.

Scholarships In Music Offered

Marin residents are eligible for music scholarships totaling $1,650, being offered in an annual competition by the Pacific Musical Society in San Francisco.

The competition will be held at the Community Music Center, 544 Capp Street, San Francisco, on April 1. Scholarships are being offered to instrumentalists, vocalists and composers.

Former winners from Marin County include Raoul Silva and David Del Tredici. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Howard E. Kincaid, 2444 Lake Street, San Francisco.

Watercolor Exhibit

An exhibit of watercolors by Barbara Carpenter of 308 Ricardo Road, Mill Valley, is now on view at the Shell Galleries in the Shell Building on Battery Street in San Francisco. The show will remain on exhibit until March 4. She has been a resident of Marin for the past 13 years.

American Field Service Film Slated Thursday

A motion picture, "The American Field Service Story" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in San Rafael High School auditorium by the school's International Club.

The movie tells the story of the American Field Service from its founding in 1914 as a volunteer ambulance corps to serve on European battlefields to its present-day student exchange program. Robert Montgomery is narrator.

Featured are experiences of an American student abroad, and of a foreign student in the United States, under the service's exchange program.

American Field Service is responsible for the presence in San Rafael of Vickey Geneteau from Panama and Roger Smeetz from Belgium, exchange students at San Rafael High, and for last semester's stay in Germany of Dee Dee Haney of San Rafael.

The movie showing is in connection with a campaign to raise funds to send more San Rafael students aboard and bring other foreign students to live and attend school here.

Planting Plan To Be Told Hub Trustees

A progress report on San Rafael landscape architect Paul Steinmetz's plan for planting around Brookside School will be made at the San Anselmo School District Board meeting tomorrow by Supt Stephen Parodi.

Trustees will meet at 8 p.m. in the faculty room of Isabel Cook School.

Steinmetz was hired to develop a site utilization plan for the school including designation of areas for volleyball, tether ball, basketball, parkings and planting spaces.

Trustees will also hear a report on the plans of the citizens committee for endorsing the proposed 35-cent tax rate increase at the April 18 election.

Assembly Of God Sponsors Speakers

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy, missionaries for 20 years to Sierra Leone, West Africa, will be guest speakers at the Christ Ambassadors Service of the Southern Marin Assembly of God, at East Blithedale and Sycamore Avenues in Mill Valley at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The Kennedys, following a furlough, will return to Sierra Leone where they were stationed at the capital, Freetown, doing evangelical work.

Marin Soprano Taking Part In Opera Program

Soprano Gwen Curatilo of San Rafael will be among those singing in "Opera Highlights" Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Marines Memorial Theater, 609 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

The program will consist of excerpts from several well known operas sung by members of the opera workshop of the San Francisco Musical Club under the direction of the club's president, Miss Verna Osborne of Ross. The performances will be in costume with full stage settings.

Miss Curatilo, currently with the San Francisco Opera, will sing an aria from Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor."

The production is to provide funds for the two scholarships the club offers annually to talented young musicians.

There has been an increase of more than 600 teachers in the public school system of Arkansas since 1955.
